Although I am well-known in my field as a Harvard-trained medical research scientist and have been an elected member of the American Academy of Neurology since 2016, Mr. Watters continues to contact and spread rumors to my employers, research sponsors and legal team without my consent of knowledge in an attempt to sabotage my career, reputation, peace of mind, the cooperation agreement and related cases. My attempts to distance myself and keep my Atherton residence only made his stalking worse. Mr. Watters started following me to my gym, the Equinox in Palo Alto, and would wait for me in the parking lot for several hours. By June 2021, I had told him my Equinox membership had expired in an effort to prevent further stalking. Staff informed me that Mr. Watters was searching for me while I remained at Equinox for several hours, afraid to leave my gym. He waited in the parking lot for 45 minutes after Equinox closed and confronted me on my way to my vehicle. On his law firm webpage, he publicly admits to this, stating "I witnessed her commit at least one petty theft when she deliberately entered a gym without paying after she told me her membership had expired, and then abused their generosity by using the entire facility for hours, even after they closed and I was waiting for her in the parking lot for about 45 minutes.

Judge or Judicial Officer

This is a Court Order.

Certificate of Compliance With VAWA

This temporary protective order meets all "full faith and credit" requirements of the Violence Against Women Act, 18 U.S.C. section 2265 (1994) (VAWA), upon notice of the restrained person. This court has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter; the restrained person has been or will be afforded notice and a timely opportunity to be heard as provided by the laws of this jurisdiction. This order is valid and entitled to enforcement in each jurisdiction throughout the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, all tribal lands, and all U.S. territories, commonwealths, and possessions and shall be enforced as if it were an order of that jurisdiction.

Warnings and Notices to the Restrained Person in (2)

Your Address to Receive Court Orders

If the judge makes a restraining order at the hearing (court date), which has the same orders as in this Temporary Restraining Order, you will get a copy of that order by mail at your last known address, which is written in (2) on page 1. If your address was not listed on this form or is incorrect, contact the court. If you did not attend your hearing and want to know if the judge granted a restraining order against you, contact the court.

Child Custody, Visitation, and Support

- Child custody and visitation: If you do not attend your hearing (court date), the judge can make custody and visitation orders for your children without hearing from you.
- Child support: The judge can order child support based on the income of both parents. The judge can also have that support taken directly from a parent's paycheck. Child support can be a lot of money, and usually you have to pay until the child is age 18. File and serve form FL-150, Income and Expense Declaration, or form FL-155, Financial Statement (Simplified), if you want the judge to have information about your finances. Otherwise, the court may make support orders without hearing from you.
- Spousal support: File and serve form FL-150, Income and Expense Declaration, so the judge will have information about your finances. Otherwise, the court may make support orders without hearing from you.

Firearms (Guns), Firearm Parts, and Ammunition

Under California law, you cannot have any firearms (guns), certain firearm parts, or ammunition. (Family Code sections 6216 and 6389(a)). Ask the court for information on how to properly turn in, sell, or store these items in your city or county. You can also contact your local police department for instructions.

This is a Court Order.

Instructions for Law Enforcement

This order is effective when made. It is enforceable by any law enforcement agency that has received the order, is shown a copy of the order, or has verified its existence on the California Law Enforcement Telecommunications System (CLETS). If the law enforcement agency has not received proof of service on the restrained person, and the restrained person was not present at the court hearing, the agency shall advise the restrained person of the terms of the order and then shall enforce it. Violations of this order are subject to criminal penalties.

Duties of Officer Serving This Order

The officer who serves this order on the Restrained Person must do the following:

- Ask if the Restrained Person is in possession of any of the prohibited items listed in (6), or has custody or control of any that they have not already turned in.
- Order the Restrained Person to immediately surrender to you all prohibited items.
- Issue a receipt to the Restrained Person for all prohibited items that have been surrendered.
- Complete a proof of personal service and file it with the court. You may use form DV-200 for this purpose.

  Within one business day of service, submit the proof of service directly into the California Restraining and Protective Order System (CARPOS), including the serving officer's name and law enforcement agency.

Arrest Required if Order Is Violated

If an officer has probable cause to believe that the restrained person had notice of the order and has disobeyed the order, the officer must arrest the restrained person. (Penal Code sections 836(c)(1), 13701(b).) A violation of the order may be a violation of Penal Code section 166 or 273.6.

If the Protected Person Contacts the Restrained Person

Even if the protected person invites or consents to contact with the restrained person, the orders remain in effect and must be enforced. The protected person cannot be arrested for inviting or consenting to contact with the restrained person. The orders can be changed only by another court order. (Penal Code section 13710(b).)

Child Custody and Visitation

Child custody and visitation orders are listed on form DV-140 or another attached form. If the judge made these orders, look at items (10) and (11) of this order to see if the judge granted an exception for brief and peaceful contact with the person in (1) as needed to follow court-ordered visits. Contact by the person in (2) that is not brief and peaceful is a violation of this order. Forms DV-100 and DV-105 are not orders. Do not enforce them.

This is a Court Order.

Conflicting Orders—Priorities for Enforcement

If more than one restraining order has been issued protecting the protected person from the restrained person, the orders must be enforced in the following priority (see Penal Code section 136.2 and Family Code sections 6383(h)(2), 6405(b)):

1. Emergency Protective Order (EPO): If one of the orders is an Emergency Protective Order (form EPO-001), provisions (e.g., stay away order) that are more restrictive than in the other restraining/protective orders must be enforced. Provisions of another order that do not conflict with the EPO must be enforced.
2. No-Contact Order: If a restraining/protective order includes a no-contact order, the no-contact order must be enforced. Item (10) is an example of a no-contact order.
3. Criminal Protective Order (CPO): If none of the orders include an EPO or a no-contact order, the most recent CPO must be enforced. (Family Code sections 6383(h)(2) and 6405(b).) Additionally, a CPO issued in a criminal case involving charges of domestic violence, Penal Code sections 261, 261.5, or former 262, or charges requiring sex offender registration must be enforced over any civil court order. (Penal Code section 136.2(e)(2).) All provisions in the civil court order that do not conflict with the CPO must be enforced.
4. Civil Restraining Orders: If there is more than one civil restraining order (e.g., domestic violence, juvenile, elder abuse, civil harassment), then the order that was issued last must be enforced. Provisions that do not conflict with the most recent civil restraining order must be enforced.

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
FOR THE COUNTY OF SAN MATEO

MAHSA PARVIZ

Petitioner,

And

ANDREW WATTERS,

Respondents

Case No.

DECLARATION OF MASHA PARVIZ IN SUPPORT OF DVRO

I, MAHSA PARVIZ, DECLARE:

1. "My name is Dr. Mahsa Parviz. I am over 18 years of age, am fully competent to make this Declaration and have personal knowledge of the facts stated herein. To my knowledge, all of the facts stated in this Declaration are true and correct."

2. "I am the Petitioner in this matter. I make this Declaration in support of my request for a domestic violence restraining order against Respondent Andrew George Watters."

3. "The exhibits to this declaration must be filed under seal pursuant to California Rules of Court Sec. 5.552, California Welfare & Institutions Code Sec. 827 and the sealing order in Travis County, Texas cause number D-1-DC-21-900031."

4. "Andrew George Watters is a local attorney with a lengthy California State Bar disciplinary history who claims his law firm generates millions of dollars of revenue per year. He and his law firm, Andrew Watters PC, began representing me in April 2021. Andrew Watters wrote to the Texas prosecutor wherein he represents himself as my attorney and attempts to negotiate the terms of a confidential cooperation agreement and enforce a restraining order. In 2021, I had the Austin PD file a Summary Incident Report number 2021-8003210, documenting the serious threat to me and my family in relation to Respondent's legal representation, which will likely worsen without issuance of a restraining order against Mr. Watters.

5. I met with Mr. Watters only a handful of times in public to discuss legal matters but Mr. Watters took advantage of my vulnerable situation. He became infatuated with me and wanted to date while continuing his legal representation, even though he knew I was married and not interested in him. Although my agreement to discreetly date him was conditioned on his specific performance of legal services and payment of expenses, he held onto the delusion that he was actually in a "personal romantic relationship" with me and went as far as creating a "hall of shame" about me and my family on his law firm webpage at https://www.andrewwatters.com."

6. Each time we met, he consumed so much alcohol that I had to get him a hotel room, which he stayed at on and off for months because he didn't have a functional shower at his parents' one bedroom apartment and storage in San Mateo, at which he still resides. In May 2021, law enforcement documented Mr. Watters' unstable behavior as my attorney, alcohol abuse and four 750 ml bottles of his hard liquor in the hotel room.

7. He proposed a partnership, which I declined upon review of his business bank account statements. I tried to distance myself once he showed me his law firm's Chase business account statements and I noticed $500 payments to prostitutes, debits that I recognized are from the IRS, and absolutely no earnings at the end of each month despite approximately $40,000.00 credited monthly to the account. I inquired about the concerning transactions and he informed me of his six-figure IRS tax debt and that he was diagnosed with Bipolar Disorder about 15 years ago after finishing law school when he stayed up for 6 days straight without using any substances in an attempt to apply for jobs and was subsequently hospitalized due to psychosis.

8. His psychiatrist at Kaiser Permanente North has prescribed him several medications, including the heavy-duty antipsychotic Risperdal, which Mr. Watters abuses daily and combines with alcohol against his doctor's orders.

9. My attempts to distance myself and keep my Atherton residence private only made his stalking worse. Mr. Watters started following me to my gym, the Equinox in Palo Alto, California, and would wait for me in the parking lot for several hours. By June 2021, I had told him my Equinox membership had expired in an effort to prevent further stalking. Staff informed me that Mr. Watters was searching for me while I remained at Equinox for several hours, afraid to leave my gym. He waited in the parking lot for 45 minutes after Equinox closed and confronted me on my way to my vehicle. On his law firm webpage, he publicly admits to this, stating "I witnessed her commit at least one petty theft when she deliberately entered a gym without paying after she told me her membership had expired, and then abused their generosity by using the entire facility for hours, even after they closed and I was waiting for her in the parking lot for about 45 minutes.

10. Mr. Watters continued stalking me and would share information about me with my former brother-in-law, a disbarred attorney who was facing life imprisonment for the organized crime I reported and against whom I had a restraining order which Mr. Watters attempted to enforce it in April 2021.

11. On August 17, 2021, after 5 weeks of not hearing from me, he again tracked my location and mailed me an eerie letter wherein he admits to constantly searching for me, stating "I happened to notice online in a routine search" in reference to my physical location. Although I am well-known in my field as a Harvard-trained medical research scientist and have been an elected member of the American Academy of Neurology since 2016, Mr. Watters continues to contact and spread rumors to my employers, research sponsors and legal team without my consent or knowledge in an attempt to sabotage my career, reputation, peace of mind, the cooperation agreement and related cases. In this letter, he admits to spreading highly inappropriate and false rumors to my legal team and others about my personal life, my mental health and alleged incompetency, stating: "I simply do not think you are competent to stand trial in a Federal felony case, and I have shared this concern with your defense counsel. Feel free to have your attorney reach out ...""

12. On October 9, 2021, I sent Mr. Watters a cease and desist letter via email and copied my mother and sister, as well as two of my attorneys, Mr. Thomas Bundy and Mr. Koudiah. I filed a State Bar complaint thereafter but was forced to stop communicating with the California State Bar when Mr. Watters retaliated by creating several horrifying webpages, with photos, explicit content, and attorney-client privileged documents and information, all about me and my family on his law firm webpage.

13. On his law firm webpage, he publicly makes offensive, false comments about me, about matters he became privy to through the course of his legal representation, and about my whole family. His comments have injured and traumatized my entire family, including my five-year-old daughter, sister, and parents, both of whom are college math professors and senior citizens with conservative, traditional family values. My parents have lost teaching assignments and investments, have been cursed at, publicly ridiculed and have even been hospitalized several times from the emotional turmoil Mr. Watters has created for my entire family.

14. Mr. Watters has been posting content about me and my family on his law firm webpage since February or March of 2022 and frequently updates the website with even more repulsive material, such as fabricated claims that my parental rights to my daughter were terminated in Texas and she's currently in foster care, that I had an alcohol-induced miscarriage when underage, that I am wholly uneducated and have various mental illnesses, that I have had sexual relations with numerous men without using protection, that I have been administered the birth control shot, that all of my relationships have ended because I have been unfaithful to my significant other, that I had sexual relations with a surgeon at my sister's wedding over a decade ago, that all my research is fake, that I am homeless but live a lavish lifestyle using my parents' money, that my whole family is just as mentally-ill and irresponsible as I allegedly am, that I print hundred dollar bills, and that I am a sexually promiscuous "5'9" Persian statute" who is "just as attractive" as his wife." Attached hereto as EXHIBIT "A" is a true and correct copy of his "hall of shame" listed on his website.

15. Most alarmingly, Mr. Watters has hosted multiple online "forums" about me wherein he claims to have contacted my parents on behalf of "all my friends in Boston", "in an attempt to conduct an intervention" in order to prevent me from having a second alcohol-induced miscarriage. His forums encourage the public to commit hate crimes against me and my family on the basis of our Persian-American heritage and the various rumors he has manufactured. Just within the past month, I was physically attacked and called a "baby killer" due to Mr. Watters' public disclosure and falsification of my medical records from when I was a minor, which he obtained over the course of his legal representation.

16. He has attempted to isolate me from my daughter by publicly claiming she's in foster care, when she is not, and that I have no parental rights to her, even though he personally verified that there has never been a judgment in a suit affecting my parent-child relationship with my daughter. Attached hereto as 'EXHIBIT C' and fully incorporated herein for all purposes is a true and correct copy of the Texas Vital Statistics Unit certification of September 10, 2021, confirming that there is no judgment affecting the parent-child relationship to my daughter, which was requested by and sent directly to Mr. Watters in his capacity as an attorney with a legitimate need for this confidential information.

17. "My family and I have had enough and need Mr. Watters and his law firm to stop distributing the aforementioned content about me and my family, whether online or through other means. We are terrified of Mr. Watters and believe this man will not stop until he is behind bars with my former brother-in-law, who has also contributed to this heinous and publicized abuse. Law enforcement has directed me to obtain a domestic violence restraining order to end the ongoing physical and emotional abuse and so that Mr. Watters will be arrested if he doesn't stop engaging in the conduct complained of herein."

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Washington that the foregoing is true and correct, and that this declaration is executed on July 18, 2023, at Seattle Washington

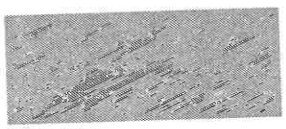

EXHIBIT "A"

MAHSA PARVIZ

An honest assessment/review

March 11, 2022

by Andrew G. Watters

Her false c.v., which she sent to me in May 2021. NEW Mahsa Parviz, aka Mahsa Parviz-Khyavi, aka Mahsa Parvis, is quite simply the worst person I have ever met in my life-- narrowly taking the crown from my former business collaborator Ben Cannon. While the harm to society caused by Ben is objectively worse considering that Ben has an entire fake telecom company that has scammed people out of possibly millions of dollars, the difference is that Mahsa is someone I was emotionally involved with in my personal life and at one point cared very much about. Anyway, Mahsa is a diabolically clever sociopath, a pathological liar, delusional, suffering from an undetermined mental illness, and is also now a nine-time convicted felon. Most recently, she was convicted of two felonies in Federal court after a jury trial in December 2021, which arose from her falsifying a passport application in order to kidnap her estranged daughter to a non-extradition country (case no. CR 21-293-DMG in the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California). I am so glad I didn't have to testify in her trial, but that's only because I made it clear to her lawyer's investigator that I would be speaking the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth-- not covering for her or vouching for her as she asked me to do. Despite making my views clear, despite recently marrying my dream girl (which Mahsa bizarrely congratulated me for), and despite my repeated demands that she stop sending me letters, texts, and emails, and stop calling me, Mahsa still keeps reaching out to me for reasons unknown. I mean, damn, I didn't know I was all that, but in any case, I'm sure I'm not alone in being the victim of her fraud and the subject of her continuing attention.

I decided to post this web page because I have no other way to deter Mahsa from continuing to contact me, and because it really pissed me off that she was impersonating a Harvard Medical School graduate (and I believed her). I am posting this web page with the full support of my wife, who understands my reasons. Hopefully I will shame Mahsa into silence with the truth, and also provide fair warning to other people who fall victim to her lies and fraudulent schemes (just like I have with Ben Cannon). So let me make one thing clear at the outset: until February 2, 2022 when I discovered the truth, I fully believed that Mahsa, who still signs her emails as "Dr. Parviz" or "Mahsa Parviz, M.D. Ph.D.," actually held those degrees from Harvard due to her fake Harvard web page that she somehow posted on the official Harvard website, as well as her actually functional Harvard email address (mparviz@fas.harvard.edu). "Dr." Parviz, it turns out, was never a student at Harvard Medical School. She was in the Extension program at Harvard, which she did not complete, and has never earned any degrees there. I discovered this when I found a declaration from a Dean at Harvard explaining that Mahsa's frivolous lawsuit against Harvard for the return of her (non-existent) transcripts was totally and completely without merit. It appears from her application that she attended a junior college in Texas, followed by the University of Texas, which she may or may not have completed. So she at least has a high school diploma or GED, as admitted in her pre-sentencing objections...great.

Let's start at the beginning, which was April 2021. I had posted a profile on a major online dating website. I found Mahsa in a search for tall, attractive, athletic women under 35 with graduate degrees (lol). Yeah, she was seriously attractive-- a 5'9 dark-haired Persian statue, basically. Unfortunately I deleted all those photos when it became clear that she was a beautiful psycho. Anyway, we met in April 2021 (she was 45 minutes late for our first date, and I nearly left). We hit it off great and were talking about how great we were for each other. Everything seemed great for 24 hours, but then I googled her. In addition to her Harvard persona, her mug shot from one of her cases came up and I was confused. Wait a second...did I just...you know...with a multiple felon who was pretending to be someone else? Oh my freaking god.

"Every nerve ending, all of my senses, the blood in my veins, everything I had was screaming, 'Take off, man, just bam, get the fuck outta there!' Panic hit me like a bucket of water. First there was the shock of it--BAM, right in the face! Then I'm just standing there drenched in panic." --Mr. Orange, Reservoir Dogs (1992)

But wait...was this really the same person? That's where it got confusing. She had talked about wanting to complete the Law Office Study Program offered by the State Bar of California in order to...become a lawyer. A lawyer who pled guilty to attempted kidnapping, evading the police, apparently forging a judge's signature, and other felonies? Impossible that this was the same person.

It was the same person. Mahsa Parviz, at that point a seven-time convicted felon, actually asked me to study law in my office so she could become a lawyer. I told her that if those things were true, then she had zero chance of ever becoming a lawyer with that record, and it was a complete waste of effort that I was not willing to undertake. I asked her to explain her possible multiple felonies, and she initially said those had all been dismissed. But that's not what the dockets showed-- the dockets showed that her appeals had been dismissed as part of her guilty pleas. What the hell was going on? I explained this to her and she steadfastly denied ever being convicted of these seven felonies. Was I supposed to believe or not believe her without independent proof? I have no idea. Obviously, now I know the truth, but at the time it wasn't clear. By the way, she said she was not married (also a lie-- she was briefly married to the father of her child and apparently still is because her nullity petition in L.A. County was dismissed for lack of prosecution).

Let me be clear on another thing: I never was hired as Mahsa's attorney, nor did I ever appear for her in any case or file papers for her. I did help out with a couple legal issues as best I could while dating her, which is perfectly legal. At no point in this essay do I reveal anything confidential, which in any case (i.e., like Ben Cannon) would be covered by the crime/fraud exception, in that Mahsa was committing crimes, was a fugitive from justice on a Texas warrant, and was otherwise scamming me into helping her get her daughter back (her parental rights had been terminated in Texas). She was obsessed with this crusade to the point of extorting me into providing legal help by threatening to end the relationship if I didn't comply. Of course it seemed less sick at the time when I was blinded by the possibility of having finally met someone great for me after a long drought.

This email that I sent to the Harvard IT department in February 2022 sums it up well:

Dear Mr. Dash,

You're listed as the Administrative Contact in the harvard.edu domain name record, and you seem to be the appropriate recipient for this inquiry.

I am a lawyer in California. I have been following the case of USA v. Parviz, which is a Federal criminal case in Los Angeles, CA against Mahsa Parviz. Ms. Parviz was recently convicted of filing a false passport application and aggravated identity theft in connection with an attempt to abduct her estranged biological daughter from foster care.

Ms. Parviz and I were in a personal romantic relationship in Spring 2021. When I learned that she was (at that time) a seven-time felon, was suffering from poorly treated or untreated mental illness, and was a compulsive liar, I ended the relationship. What I didn't know until yesterday 2/2/2022 was that she never attended Harvard Medical School and never earned a M.D. or Ph.D. there, contrary to her continuous representations-- at least as of October 2021, she continued to sign her emails with both of her non-existent degrees.

At the beginning of the relationship, I tried to do my due diligence by Googling her, and my search produced the following legitimate-looking Harvard web pages:

https://scholar.harvard.edu/mparviz

https://collaborate.med.harvard.edu/display/~MP284/Parviz%2C+Mahsa

She also had a valid Harvard email address that she used to accept email--which is still valid as of today, as verified by connecting to the Harvard email server via Telnet: mparviz@fas.harvard.edu

Finally, Ms. Parviz has several purported publications, and even courses she supposedly taught, listed on her Harvard web pages. The collection of Harvard web pages and related materials made me believe that she had the degrees she represented, and I didn't feel the need to look further. The fake Harvard persona tipped the balance between dating her and not dating her, as well as believing her or not believing her, as I'm sure it has for other guys as well.

It turns out that Ms. Parviz was enrolled in Harvard Extension School for a time, according to records filed in a lawsuit in 2017 when Ms. Parviz sued Harvard to release her non-existent Harvard Medical School transcripts. Please see attachment, which is the declaration of the H.E.S. Dean explaining the circumstances, and attaching Ms. Parviz's application for Harvard Extension School that clearly shows Ms. Parviz's situation. I have no idea why Ms. Parviz would sue Harvard knowing that she never attended Harvard Medical School and could not possibly have any transcripts there, but perhaps that is due to some type of mental condition.

Anyway, Ms. Parviz appears to have hacked or at least misused her Harvard Extension credentials to create a fake identity on the Harvard website and make people think that she was an accomplished medical researcher and graduate of Harvard. Her Harvard web pages readily appear on Google when people search for her name, although her criminal cases have taken precedence at this point.

I am counting myself lucky to have not (so far) had permanent fallout from this toxic relationship, other than a continuous stream of harassing and inappropriate emails, letters, and texts. But I would like to ask Harvard to at least consider deleting Ms. Parviz's web pages and disabling her email address for violations of the Harvard acceptable use policy so that her substantial fraud does not continue. The imprimatur of Harvard is a big deal and is worth protecting from frauds and cheats.

I'm cc'ing the prosecutors in Ms. Parviz's case because I think Ms. Parviz's fraudulent Harvard persona is relevant to her sentencing, which is coming up in March 2022. She's at least rational enough to know that impersonating a Harvard M.D./Ph.D. is wrong, and I hope that this awareness and her bad behavior factor into her sentencing in some fashion.

Best,

Andrew Watters

So...you be the judge. Was I reasonable in believing her when she steadfastly, repeatedly, and consistently claimed to have Harvard degrees that appeared confirmed by her official-looking Harvard web pages? I don't know. She had photos and other evidence showing that she worked at the hospital at Harvard in some capacity, and lots of credible-sounding stories. But let's continue with the story.

Colorful highlights of this awful experience include, but are not limited to:

1. She once asked me to reload a prepaid American Express card for her while she waited in the car, and it's still unclear to me whether the hundred dollar bills she handed me were authentic or counterfeit. I had this thought and realized the risk while the 7-11 clerk was counting out the bills and then hesitated (while looking at me a little funny) before handing them back to me when Mahsa's AMEX prepaid card was declined to be reloaded. I shrugged, then I bought a few small items in the store and acted as normal as I could while the clerk was staring at me. I was absolutely sweating bullets as I walked out of that store because I knew that I would be the one to get in trouble for handing the clerk an envelope of possibly fake bills without actually looking at the bills first...yeah, what a dummy for trusting her. Thank god the card was declined, which on a reload could only mean one thing...Mahsa was on the run (turns out she had an active warrant in Texas). In all fairness, I did glance at the bills after the reload failed, and I didn't see anything suspicious, which is why the relationship continued. But my point is that this is how easily I could have been arrested and possibly lose my law license because of Mahsa manipulating me. Wow, she is truly diabolical and has absolutely no regard for other people.
2. She was legally homeless (she claimed to be searching for a place after recently moving back to the area from Texas) and bounced around from hotel to hotel depending on whichever hotel would let her stay there with a prepaid card. Her parents gave her a lot of money, which is how she supported herself while being unable to work a normal job.
3. She was charged with grand theft in state court for allegedly stealing a guy's jewelry and Adderall. The case has languished in Santa Clara County, presumably due to her Federal charges and conviction.
4. I witnessed her commit at least one petty theft when she deliberately entered a gym without paying after she told me her membership had expired, and then abused their generosity by using the entire facility for hours, even after they closed and I was waiting for her in the parking lot for about 45 minutes.

Don't get me wrong-- there were some positive things in the relationship after she assured me she was not a seven-time felon and also swore that to the extent she had legal problems, it's because she was framed by her former brother-in-law, a lawyer in Texas. I thought that maybe this was my destiny: a beautiful, superintelligent young woman who was a possibly reformed criminal but who adored me, and that this was my chance to finally have someone in my life. What could I do?

Okay, so fast forward to early June 2021. After yet another argument where she threatened to dump me if I didn't help get her daughter back, and another series of erratic, bizarre SnapChat audio messages at 3 a.m., I decided that I had had enough. I dumped her and sent her a Dear Jane email. I blocked her on SnapChat, phone, and email, and promised myself that I would never make the same mistakes again.

After about five weeks of not hearing from her, I felt a sense of relief, but also a sense of curiosity. Why hadn't I heard from her when she had been so vocal in her desire to rekindle the relationship? I googled her again and was shocked to see USA v. Parviz, the Federal criminal case regarding the false passport application. I confirmed that she was in custody using the Federal inmate locator, and that answered my question. Part of me felt bad for her and the other part of me felt glad that she was behind bars. So I felt conflicted...and keep in mind, at this point I still thought she was an accomplished medical researcher with M.D. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard. So what did I do? I wrote her a letter stating how I felt, as well as my concerns about her competency to stand trial in a Federal criminal case. Whoops...this appears to have prompted the ongoing campaign of harassment I have experienced.

First, she started writing me letters-- about twenty pages of letters, many of which talked about the future in an endearing fashion. Then she starting calling, texting, and emailing. I was still developing the situation, so I didn't know what to do. I didn't want to talk to her on jail calls, and I didn't want to get texts from her. So I let her send emails. Honestly it was an engaging correspondence for about a month and a half until I finally blocked her after yet another inappropriate series of messages. I can't recall exactly what she said, but it was something about being taken care of financially by someone else who she was talking to. I thought, wait a second-- you send me letters talking about a future with me and then you threaten to pick someone from a purportedly deep pool of suitors? Sick, which is how she thinks.

So yeah, by then I had met my now-wife and the rest is history. But I still keep getting calls, texts, and emails from Mahsa and/or her mom. The last straw was yet another time-wasting request where Mahsa asked me to send her "file" to her attorney, who her mom confirmed was the longtime family attorney. The problem is, when I reached out to confirm the request with the attorney, he said he didn't represent Mahsa-- and he didn't respond to my subsequent email asking if he still wanted anything I had gathered while helping out Mahsa with her legal problems. I then blocked Mahsa's latest phone number (somehow she keeps sending texts from jail), complained to the Bureau of Prisons, and made it clear that if I get a single additional communication from Mahsa, I will finally get that restraining order I talked about previously. I am not sure what that would accomplish considering that Mahsa is already in jail, but it would be a symbolic gesture at least. I am finally taking this complaint online because I have nothing else I can do at this point to stop her harassing communications for good.

What did I learn from all this? Well, some people are just so screwed up that they can't help but commit felonies. Mahsa appears to be one of those people. In retrospect, I just have to recognize that I am the victim of a scam and go from there. At least I don't appear to have any lasting effects from this toxic relationship, other than emotional trauma from the roller coaster I experienced. I am eternally thankful that I was able to resist the temptation of someone so wrong but so attractive, in order to meet someone so right (and just as attractive), who I am with now.

If further proof is needed, just check out the summary of the trial evidence from the government that's in their opposition to Mahsa's motion for acquittal. Sad. The motion for acquittal was obviously denied. And she hasn't even tried to appeal her conviction!

To be continued...not bad for one day of effort! I have way more things to share, but I will start by adding more supporting documents as I find the time so that this is finished once and for all and is unassailable proof that this walking disaster of a person needs to disappear for the length of her sentence, which I estimate at five years given her lengthy and serious criminal history. Looks like May 3, 2022 for sentencing.

Update March 14, 2022 - the Harvard information security department is looking at the web pages and they sent a polite email back.

Update March 19, 2022 - Harvard deleted her fake web page.

Update March 21, 2022 - I've heard from a couple other victims, as well as one person who wants to post counterpoint-type mitigating factors on here. After much consideration, I've decided that I'm going to host a counterpoint/mitigation section below with comments and supporting documents from persons who want to defend Mahsa in some fashion-- as long as they take responsibility for whatever they post on here with their names and contact information. It's only fair to permit that since I have a megaphone here while Mahsa is in prison and can't respond.

Update April 4, 2022 - I had a very interesting conversation with another victim who says Mahsa tried to take him for a million dollars. Wow.

Update June 19, 2022 - Mahsa's sentencing will be in July 2022. Meanwhile, she followed through on her extortionate threat to report me to the State Bar if I didn't remove my web page. I received a letter of inquiry, to which I responded within 20 minutes. I have nothing to hide and I categorically deny doing anything improper. As a thank-you for her extorting me, I am going to post an email I received from one of her Boston-area friends, who says he sent the following email to Mahsa's family in an effort to conduct an intervention. Here it is, verbatim:

Dear Mr. Parviz,

My name is Andrew Taylor; I have been a friend of your daughter Mahsa for a few months now. Mahsa is an intelligent, hard-working, lovely young woman in whom I see tremendous potential. However, as I'm sure you're aware, she has led a lifestyle here in Boston that is causing me and the rest of her friends great concern. We wish to intervene and help her make better decisions but we don't quite know where to start; I am writing today to solicit your input. Among her concerning behaviors:

-Compulsive drinking. Mahsa, despite being legally underage, consumes significant amounts of alcohol on a daily basis, despite having endured an alcohol-induced miscarriage during her relationship with Mark as well has having been arrested for DUI. Her alcohol consumption has reached the point that we cannot take her to a restaurant that serves alcohol without her ordering several drinks, regardless of her ability to afford them or any events on her agenda that would require her to present a polished image; there have been several instances where Mahsa's alcohol consumption has resulted in her missing job interviews and classes at Harvard. I have personally witnessed her using her sister's driver's license numerous times as a means to enter liquor stores and drinking establishments.

-Compulsive shopping and financial irresponsibility. Mahsa owns numerous clothing articles from very reputable name brands (Gucci, Prada, etc.) and continues to buy many more, yet she has no clear means of affording them. Visits to her apartment have resulted in her friends, myself included, finding notices from Neiman Marcus, Macy's and Walmart, demanding immediate payment for significantly large credit balances Mahsa owes them; Mahsa recently disclosed to her boyfriend [redacted] that her credit score is only slightly higher than 500, which doesn't qualify her for a loan of any sort. To illustrate her lack of financial responsibility, this semester, she complained to her boyfriend, [redacted], that she was unable to afford her tuition for the semester. [redacted] immediately suggested that she return some of her very expensive clothing items, in response to which she threatened to divorce him if he ever suggested such an idea if they were to get married. Further, she has bragged to several of her friends, myself included, that nothing gets her parents to send money to fuel her shopping habits more quickly than the phrase "Mommy, I'm hungry!".

-Poor language. Mahsa doesn't hesitate to use obscenities when addressing her friends, especially if she is upset. I recently inquired with her about why her Facebook and LinkedIn profiles suggest she is a PhD candidate at Harvard, when I know first-hand that she is attempting to get into the ALM (Master of Liberal Arts) program in finance at Harvard. Her response was the following:

"Hey fat fuck! Yeah I'm getting my masters and my phd. Go stick it up your butt buddy [redacted]'s ass and don't speak to me again. I don't talk to your kind loser. :)...you have no friends you depressed fucking loser"

I wish I could tell you that outbursts like these are rare but unfortunately, they are quite common. Mahsa routinely talks like this to anyone here in Boston who has the nerve to refuse her demands, most commonly for alcohol and money, or when the truth in her statements comes under question.

-Sexual promiscuity. Mahsa has disclosed to [redacted] that she has had numerous sexual partners, many of whom with which she has had unprotected sex. She has had numerous relationships, all of which have been terminated as a result of her being sexually unfaithful to her partner; her most recent relationship with [redacted] ended as when she came to Dallas for a wedding, she had sex with a surgeon she met at the wedding. Mahsa received a birth control shot shortly after she moved to Boston, presumably with money provided by you, and has used this as an excuse to have unprotected sex with men she typically has known for less than a couple of weeks. We are worried that when the shot's potency inevitably wears off, her sexual habits will continue which, combined with her egregious alcohol consumption, will result in Mahsa enduring a second miscarriage.

Mr. Parviz, I'm not writing to you today with the intention of ratting her out, I'm writing because I and all of my mutual friends with her know that this pattern of irresponsibility will result in imminent consequences for her. We wish to intervene before it is too late but she has resisted our efforts and continues to habitually make poor decisions. Any sort of encouragement or advice you can provide to me would be greatly appreciated.

With warmest regards,
Andrew Taylor

And here is my email exchange with the State Bar of California. What a sick joke-- this is the thanks I get for trying to help.

Update July 2, 2022 - Mahsa's State Bar complaint was dismissed, as expected. Meanwhile, the Government filed a pre-sentencing report recommending a sentence of 81 months (6 years 9 months) in prison due to Mahsa's extensive criminal history and flagrant disregard for the law. I was disappointed to see the Harvard angle omitted from the report, but I guess they had enough ammunition without it. According to Mahsa's defense counsel's own psychiatric evaluation of her, she has Borderline Personality Disorder and Bipolar Disorder. I am not surprised in the least by that, nor am I surprised by her trying to get out of a stiff sentence by claiming that her mental health problems caused her to offend. Mahsa deserves to go to prison for a long time, and her sentencing is on July 12, 2022. Will update this with additional documents in the near future, including my restraining order filing that I've finally gotten around to completing.

Update July 3, 2022 - I heard from [redacted], who left me a voicemail stating that he cannot be associated with Mahsa in any way. I debated for a while before redacting his name from Mr. Taylor's email. On the one hand, redacting information is inconsistent with my policy of radical honesty. However, Mr. Taylor vouched for [redacted] and said he knew [redacted] is a good guy. That was enough for me, setting aside privacy concerns. So there you have it, I balanced privacy and radical honesty appropriately in a difficult case. Also, by request, here is the Government's pre-sentencing report, and Mahsa's response. I laughed out loud at her response, especially in the "acceptance of responsibility" section.

Update July 14, 2022 - Mahsa has been sentenced to 61 months in prison (five years, one month) followed by three years of supervised release during which she has to obtain mental health treatment. I am also ready to pull the trigger on the restraining order, I just need to sign the forms. I guess that's a wrap for now.

Update May 25, 2023 - I was wrong that this is over. Mahsa wrote me a letter threatening to file a frivolous Domestic Violence action against me in San Mateo County, where I practice, specifically to trash my reputation among the local judges-- unless I take down this web page. In case it wasn't clear, I do not censor my website for any reason. Extorting me into removing the web page, which is intended to protect the public from Mahsa's diabolical, illegal schemes, is the last straw. So I filed a lawsuit in the Western District of Washington, where Mahsa is incarcerated. Any interested persons can follow along on PACER using the case number.

Superior Court of California
County of Orange

Superior Court of California
County of Orange
Lamoreaux Justice Center

Hon. William G. Watson, Dept. L63

Pursuant to California Judicial Council Emergency Rule 3[1] and Orange County Superior Court Administrative Order No. 20/15, this Court will proceed with conducting Remote Hearings via TEAMS videoconference on a mandatory basis in certain cases. Once identified for mandatory hearing, the procedures to conduct the hearing will be managed according to the following Department L63 procedures:

I. Preliminaries
   a. Consent to participate by remote hearing (including self-represented litigants and counsel) is NOT REQUIRED, but rather MANDATORY as set forth in Administrative Order No. 20/15.
   b. All hearings and conferences are limited to no more than 2 hours (60 minutes per side). More time may be allowed at the Court's discretion based on scheduling and Court availability.
   c. Maximum of 15 exhibits per side (maximum 15 pages per exhibit).
      i. If submitted exhibits exceed these limitations, those exhibits (or those portions of the exhibit) will not be admitted as evidence.
   d. All exhibits must be emailed to the courtroom e-mail address (L63@occourts.org), and emailed to the opposing party/counsel, at least 72 hours prior to the hearing.
   e. If exhibits are not previously provided to the Court or the opposing party, they will not be considered.

[1] Use of technology for remote appearances
(a) Notwithstanding any other law, in order to protect the health and safety of the public, including court users, both in custody and out of custody defendants, witnesses, court personnel, judicial officers, and others, courts must conduct judicial proceedings and court operations as follows:
   a. Courts may require that judicial proceedings and court operations be conducted remotely. (. . .)
   b. Conducting proceedings remotely includes, but is not limited to, the use of video, audio, and telephonic means for remote appearances; the electronic exchange and authentication of documentary evidence; e-filing and e-service; the use of remote interpreting; and the use of remote reporting and electronic recording to make the official record of an action or proceeding.
(b) Sunset
This rule will remain in effect until 90 days after the Governor declares that the state of emergency related to the COVID-19 pandemic is lifted, or until amended or repealed by the Judicial Council.

f. Just because an exhibit is produced correctly, does not mean it is admissible. Parties remain free to object to exhibits during the hearing.

II. Scheduling

a. Parties must be on time for hearing or risk having to request a new hearing date and time in the future, and risk being sanctioned for failure to appear absent good cause.

III. Recording

a. Neither attorneys, parties, witnesses, nor any third parties are permitted to record the proceeding. Recording of any kind may run afoul of existing Penal Code statutes.

b. If a party/counsel/witness unlawfully records the proceedings in violation of Cal. Pen. Code Sec. 632, or any other section, the Court will forward the matter to the Orange County District Attorney's Office for prosecution.

IV. Attendance

a. Only parties, counsel, and witnesses previously identified will be invited to the hearing.

b. All parties, counsel, and witnesses must be able to be seen and heard by all other parties.

c. Prior to the hearing date, it will be necessary for participants to have access to TEAMS on their electronic devices (computers, cell phones, tablets, or laptops). All participants must test functionality prior to their hearing date.

d. Witnesses will be admitted to the meeting when it is time for them to testify. They should leave the meeting after testimony, unless the attorneys/parties make a request to have them remain after their testimony is complete, and the Judicial Officer has granted the request.

e. Attorneys/parties will not be allowed to forward the link to the meeting. They must provide the emails of all proposed parties, other counsel, and witnesses in advance. Any unidentified entrants will be expelled from the hearing.

f. The Court may decide to "close the courtroom" for the remote hearing, based on the applicable statutory justifications for doing so. Otherwise, members of the public including friends or family who wish to attend must make a request directly to the Court to be invited to the meeting. Said request may be made by emailing L63@occourts.org with case name and case number at least 24 hours prior to the hearing date and time. In such instances, the Court will respond by providing an audio/telephonic link to enable access. Again, such persons are prohibited from recording these proceedings and may be subject to sanction and/or prosecution for doing so.

V. Miscellaneous

a. No notice of hearing will be required for a remote hearing. The Court's invitation to the TEAMS hearing will be sufficient.
b. All other pertinent Statutes and Rules will apply to the hearing.
c. Business casual or business attire is appropriate dress for parties, counsel, and witnesses.
d. All participants must be able to be seen and heard by all other participants.
e. During the hearing, parties that are not testifying should have their microphones muted unless they are speaking.
f. Witnesses should be in a room alone during testimony, without access to any documents or papers, other than copies of exhibits already provided to the Court and opposing parties.
g. If they are in separate locations, attorneys and parties may communicate privately via text or email during the hearing, provided however, parties may not communicate with counsel while they are testifying.
h. No one may communicate with witnesses privately during the hearing without Court permission.
i. All participants must be in an office or room with proper lighting. There should not be any distractions (noise or other things) occurring in the background.
j. All participants must have their camera on AT ALL TIMES.
k. Participants will be allowed to speak only when prompted by the Court.
l. Participants should ask to sign off before signing off to make sure they do not have any other issues to resolve.
m. The attorney is responsible for a client's behavior while participating. An attorney's client will not be allowed to speak unless prompted by the Court.
n. If a party's internet connection is poor and the Court is unable to view, hear or understand an attorney or litigant, the Court reserves the right to continue the matter.

VI. Conduct at Hearing:

a. These hearings will still include a Court Reporter, and as usual, it is important people not speak out of turn or over top of one another, as the Court Reporter will be unable to catch everything.
b. Disturbances will not be tolerated.
c. If there are any potential rebuttal documents that need to be submitted during the hearing, litigants may do so, but, when possible, they need to scan those documents into their computer prior to the hearing. This will mean that they are available and ready to forward to the other party, to their counsel, to the witness, and to the Court (L63@occourts.org).

VII. Interpreters
a. Pursuant to Emergency Rule 3, use of interpreters through videoconference is also expressly permitted.
b. The use of simultaneous translation will not be available. The parties and the interpreter will have to use consecutive translation, which slows down the process but is necessary considering these circumstances.
c. If an interpreter is needed, please indicate that in an email to the Court (L63@occourts.org).

VIII. Evidence
a. Determining admissibility/authentication
    i. Admissibility of documents and other evidence will be considered as it is otherwise handled in person.
    ii. Electronic documents/exhibits will have to be created by the proffering party by way of scanning and emailing to L63@occourts.org, as discussed above.
    iii. All exhibits must be exchanged with the other party/counsel, and sent to the above email address, at least 72 hours prior to scheduled videoconference.
    iv. ALL parties and attorneys will have electronic copies of ALL anticipated exhibits prior to beginning the videoconference.
    v. To the extent necessary, any objections should be kept to a minimum. Counsel, or self represented litigants, must simply raise their hand, for visual cuing, wait to be recognized by the Court, then, and only then, state your objection. This is NOT an invitation for a speaking objection, simply the legally recognized objection is all that is needed.
b. Mark and maintain exhibits
    i. The Court Clerk will remain responsible for maintaining the official record of admitted exhibits. To facilitate this process, all parties and attorneys must pre-tag every anticipated exhibit with a PDF cover sheet. You may call the Court Clerk if unfamiliar with this process.

Judicial Officer WILLIAM G. WATSON

Right to Cancel Hearing: Information for the Person in (1)

- If item (4) a(2) or (4) a(3) is checked, the judge has denied some or all of the temporary orders you requested until the court hearing. The judge may make the orders you want after the court hearing. You can keep the hearing date, or you can cancel your request for orders so there is no court hearing.
- If you want to cancel the hearing, use form DV-112, Waiver of Hearing on Denied Request for Temporary Restraining Order. Fill it out and file it with the court as soon as possible. You may file a new request for orders, on the same or different facts, at a later time.
- If you cancel the hearing, do not serve the documents listed in item (6) on the other person.
- If you want to keep the hearing date, you must have all of the documents listed in item (6) served on the other person within the time listed in item (6).
- At the hearing, the judge will consider whether denial of any requested orders will jeopardize your safety and the safety of children for whom you are requesting custody or visitation.
- You must come to the hearing if you want the judge to make restraining orders or continue any orders already made. If you cancel the hearing or do not come to the hearing, any restraining orders made on form DV-110 will end on the date of the hearing.

21V000745

Judge (or Judicial Officer)

WILLIAM G. WATSON

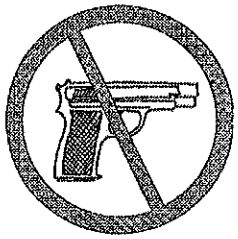

This is a Court Order.

Warnings and Notices to the Restrained Person in ②

If You Do Not Obey This Order, You Can Be Arrested And Charged With a Crime.

- If you do not obey this order, you can go to jail or prison and/or pay a fine.
- It is a felony to take or hide a child in violation of this order.
- If you travel to another state or to tribal lands or make the protected person do so, with the intention of disobeying this order, you can be charged with a federal crime.

You Cannot Have Guns, Firearms, And/Or Ammunition.

You cannot own, have, possess, buy or try to buy, receive or try to receive, or otherwise get guns, other firearms, and/or ammunition while the order is in effect. If you do, you can go to jail and pay a $1,000 fine. You must sell to or store with a licensed gun dealer or turn in to a law enforcement agency any guns or other firearms that you have or control. The judge will ask you for proof that you did so. If you do not obey this order, you can be charged with a crime. Federal law says you cannot have guns or ammunition while the order is in effect.

Service of Order by Mail

If the judge makes a restraining order at the hearing, which has the same orders as in this form, you will get a copy of that order by mail at your last known address, which is written in ②. If this address is incorrect, or to find out if the orders were made permanent, contact the court.

Child Custody, Visitation, and Support

- Child custody and visitation: If you do not go to the hearing, the judge can make custody and visitation orders for your children without hearing from you.
- Child support: The judge can order child support based on the income of both parents. The judge can also have that support taken directly from a parent's paycheck. Child support can be a lot of money, and usually you have to pay until the child is age 18. File and serve a Financial Statement (Simplified) (form FL-155) or an Income and Expense Declaration (form FL-150) if you want the judge to have information about your finances. Otherwise, the court may make support orders without hearing from you.
- Spousal support: File and serve an Income and Expense Declaration (form FL-150) so the judge will have information about your finances. Otherwise, the court may make support orders without hearing from you.

Instructions for Law Enforcement

This order is effective when made. It is enforceable by any law enforcement agency that has received the order, is shown a copy of the order, or has verified its existence on the California Law Enforcement Telecommunications System (CLETS). If the law enforcement agency has not received proof of service on the restrained person, and the restrained person was not present at the court hearing, the agency shall advise the restrained person of the terms of the order and then shall enforce it. Violations of this order are subject to criminal penalties.

Arrest Required if Order Is Violated

If an officer has probable cause to believe that the restrained person had notice of the order and has disobeyed the order, the officer must arrest the restrained person. (Pen. Code, §§ 836(c)(1), 13701(b).) A violation of the order may be a violation of Penal Code section 166 or 273.6.

This is a Court Order.

If the Protected Person Contacts the Restrained Person

Even if the protected person invites or consents to contact with the restrained person, the orders remain in effect and must be enforced. The protected person cannot be arrested for inviting or consenting to contact with the restrained person. The orders can be changed only by another court order. (Pen. Code, §13710(b).)

Conflicting Orders–Priorities for Enforcement

If more than one restraining order has been issued protecting the protected person from the restrained person, the orders must be enforced according to the following priorities (see Pen. Code, § 136.2, and Fam. Code, §§ 6383(h), 6405(b)):

1. EPO: If one of the orders is an Emergency Protective Order (form EPO-001), and it is more restrictive than other restraining or protective orders, it has precedence in enforcement over all other orders.
2. No-Contact Order: If there is no EPO, a no-contact order that is included in a restraining or protective order has precedence in enforcement over any other restraining or protective order.
3. Criminal Order: If none of the orders includes a no-contact order, a domestic violence protective order issued in a criminal case takes precedence in enforcement over any conflicting civil court order. Any nonconflicting terms of the civil restraining order remain in effect and enforceable.
4. Family, Juvenile, or Civil Order: If more than one family, juvenile, or other civil restraining or protective order has been issued, the one that was issued last must be enforced.

Child Custody and Visitation

- The custody and visitation orders are on form DV-140, items (3) and (4) They are sometimes also written on additional pages or referenced in DV-140 or other orders that are not part of the restraining order.
- Forms DV-100 and DV-105 are not orders. Do not enforce them.

Certificate of Compliance With VAWA

This temporary protective order meets all "full faith and credit" requirements of the Violence Against Women Act, 18 U.S.C. § 2265 (1994) (VAWA), upon notice of the restrained person. This court has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter; the restrained person has been or will be afforded notice and a timely opportunity to be heard as provided by the laws of this jurisdiction. This order is valid and entitled to enforcement in each jurisdiction throughout the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, all tribal lands, and all U.S. territories, commonwealths, and possessions and shall be enforced as if it were an order of that jurisdiction.

(Clerk will fill out this part.)

DECLARATION OF SOPHIA SOBHANI

DV-100: RECENT ABUSE AND HISTORY

I, SOPHIA SOBHANI, declare as follows:

1. I am a Witness in this action and submit this Declaration in support of Petitioner Mahsa Parviz's request for Temporary and final Domestic Violence Restraining Orders ("DVRO"). I have firsthand, personal knowledge of the facts contained in this declaration, and if called as a witness, I could and would competently testify hereto under oath.

2. Except as to such facts as stated from my information and belief, which I believe to be true, the following facts are stated from my personal knowledge. I offer this declaration in lieu of personal testimony pursuant to §§2009 and 2015.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, Rule 1225 of the California Rules of Court, Reifler vs. Superior (1974) 39 Cal.App.3d 479 and Marriage of Stevenot (1984) 154 Cal.App.2d 1051.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AND OTHER CRIMINAL ACTS

3. I am a close friend and former classmate of Mahsa Parviz for about 15 years. I have knowledge of the ongoing stalking and threats Ms. Parviz has suffered at the hand of a violent family member, Roger Arash Farahmand, who is currently facing life in jail for the fraud he committed using the pharmacies which rightfully belonged to Ms. Parviz and her family. Ms. Parviz reported Mr. Farahmand's fraud and her cooperation as a witness is needed. Mr. Farahmand continues to intimidate her and place her in fear of harm if she cooperates with law enforcement.

4. I visited Ms. Parviz at her residence in Palo Alto and we were enjoying our night until she received a threatening call from Mr. Farahmand who made it clear that he will kill Ms. Parviz and her daughter if she doesn't stop helping law enforcement and the prosecutors. We were so scared that we immediately left to another location and are still afraid that he is looking for us.

5. Ms. Parviz wishes to return home and wants her and her family to be safe and resume business operations. We have remained together for safety reasons since Mr. Farahmand's call on 04/13/2021. I have witnessed Mr. Farahmand's continued stalking as he has monitored Ms. Parviz's Gmail account activity and read confidential e-mails from his unauthorized logins which have returned several times already. Ms. Parviz has turned off all her personal electronic devices and is afraid of contacting anyone, especially law enforcement due to Mr. Farahmand's occupation as an attorney and the recent death threats. If this Court does not issue the orders Ms. Parviz has requested, we are certain that Mr. Farahmand will strike and harm Ms.Parviz, her family, and myself.

I declare under penalty of perjury of the laws of the State of California that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed this 15th day of April, 2021, in San Francisco, California.

DECLARATION OF MAHSA PARVIZ

DV-100: RECENT ABUSE AND HISTORY

I, MAHSA PARVIZ, declare as follows:

1. I am the Petitioner in this action and submit this Declaration in support of my request for Temporary and final Domestic Violence Restraining Orders ("DVRO"). I have firsthand, personal knowledge of the facts contained in this declaration, and if called as a witness, I could and would competently testify hereto under oath.

2. Except as to such facts as stated from my information and belief, which I believe to be true, the following facts are stated from my personal knowledge. I offer this declaration in lieu of personal testimony pursuant to §§2009 and 2015.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, Rule 1225 of the California Rules of Court, Reifler vs. Superior (1974) 39 Cal.App.3d 479 and Marriage of Stevenot (1984) 154 Cal.App.2d 1051.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AND OTHER CRIMINAL ACTS

3. Respondent, Roger Arash Farahmand (DOB 07/29/1971; SS # 450-73-3849) is a former cohabitant and family member by affinity (brother in-law) as defined under §§6205 and 6209 of the California Family Code. Ever since his introduction to my family about a decade ago, I have suffered from repeated abuse at Respondent's hands and fear he will strike again. He has recently been following me out of anger that he is being prosecuted on crimes I assisted in reporting and he is actively evading arrest for committing 1st degree felonies in Texas (03/19/2021 indictment attached).

4. Specifically, Respondent has electronically surveilled me, has recorded me without my permission, followed me on multiple occasions, has accessed and publicly disseminated sensitive material from when I was a minor, attacked me and my then 10-week-old daughter outside of a daycare and caused serious bodily injuries, made unwanted sexual advances toward me, harassed me with repetitive phone calls, used my and my immediate family's identifying information without permission, isolated me from friends, dates, and professional contacts by disseminating lies, controlled my finances and personal property, used excessive physical force to make my nephew consume beer as an infant, took photos of me without my permission while I was undressing, stalked my elderly parents and placed them in fear of serious bodily injury, retaliated against me for assisting law enforcement as a prospective witness and thereafter an Informant, and has now threatened to murder me and my immediate family members, amongst other acts of domestic violence.

5. For decades, my family has owned and operated several healthcare businesses, including compounding pharmacies, which serve California, Texas, Massachusetts and other states. In November 2016, I reported Mr. Farahmand's organized crime and fraud in relation to misappropriation of my family pharmacies and my cooperation with law enforcement and other agencies was sought. I have attached the original police report wherein I am advised to provide evidence to the Texas Department of Insurance and others.

6. Shortly thereafter, I began receiving threats by Mr. Farahmand and his agents, primarily Blake Riad James Maso & Karen Blakely Turner, and I have lived in fear for my safety and the safety of my family for several years since reporting Mr. Farahmand's crimes and cooperating with law enforcement to the extent that I am terrified of now cooperating with law enforcement or seeking the help I need. Mr. Farahmand has been convicted of domestic violence (assault causes bodily injury of family member) in the past, was permanently denied from practicing law in California due to poor moral character and was suspended from practicing law in Texas for 5 years. Mr. Farahmand has previously carried out his threats, such as the 2018 incident where he physically assaulted and injured me at a daycare while I held my 10-week-old daughter, causing my hospitalization and serious bodily injuries. I have attached the police report of this incident of domestic violence and photos of the injuries he caused.

7. Between 3/19/2021 – 3/25/2021, the Texas Department of Insurance had enough evidence and Mr. Farahmand is now facing up to life imprisonment as he was finally indicted in Travis County, Texas for First Degree Felonies: Engaging in Organized Crime, and Securing Execution of Document by Deception (Cause Nos. D1-DC-21-900031 & D1-DC-21-900032). I have attached the Texas Department of Insurance news release. The criminal Court has already prohibited Mr. Farahmand and his agents from harming or threatening to harm me as I am a witness, and the Summons clearly states that continuing with such conduct is a crime and would result in his arrest. I have attached the criminal Court records from Travis County, TX (Cause No. D1-DC-21-900031) which prohibit this conduct against me.

8. Despite this, Mr. Farahmand has recently made restricted calls to my phone to make death threats, state a fact about my physical location, and remind me of the horrifying consequences to me and my family if I am to continue speaking to law enforcement and other agencies. On 04/13/2021, I was in Palo Alto and had invited over a close friend, Sophia Sobhani. At 8:54 pm, I receive a restricted call and answered on speakerphone. I immediately recognized the nasally voice and it is my distinct impression that this individual was Mr. Farahmand. For about 41 seconds, Mr. Farahmand made death threats directed towards me and my 3 year old daughter, Clara, mentioned the exact street I was on, and threatened me to "disappear or else" he "will make me disappear" if I do not stop contacting law enforcement. This call terrified both me and Ms. Sobhani so much that we immediately left to an undisclosed location, turned off our electronics to prevent Mr. Farahmand from tracking our location, and made a report to law enforcement as discretely as possible.

9. The stalking, threats to inflict physical injury and terrorizing restricted calls by Respondent have only increased in frequency and are seriously disturbing my peace. Mr. Farahmand is currently monitoring my Gmail account activity and I have removed the unauthorized logins by his devices which have returned 3 times since his call on 4/13/2021. On 04/16/2021, I discovered and removed another of his suspicious logins to my Gmail account from a Mac in California since 12:17 AM on 4/15/2021.

10. On Thursday, 04/22/2021, I attempted to call Palo Alto Police Department's non-emergency number and was in shock when my phone immediately received a restricted call from Respondent who eerily reminded me he's watching, intimidated me and threatened to harm me and my family, stating "it's not a good idea" if I don't listen to him and that he'll "take me out" if I try calling the wrong people one more time, implying once again that he will kill me. To make matters worse, for the past few days that I have attempted to return to Palo Alto, I have noticed that I am being followed by a male in a suspicious black compact car which resembles a 2010 Ford Focus.

11. I am still afraid of communicating with law enforcement and am in desperate need of this Court to intervene by issuing the DVRO requested herein to protect me and my immediate family from the physical harm which I am certain he will accomplish otherwise.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of California that the foregoing is true and correct.

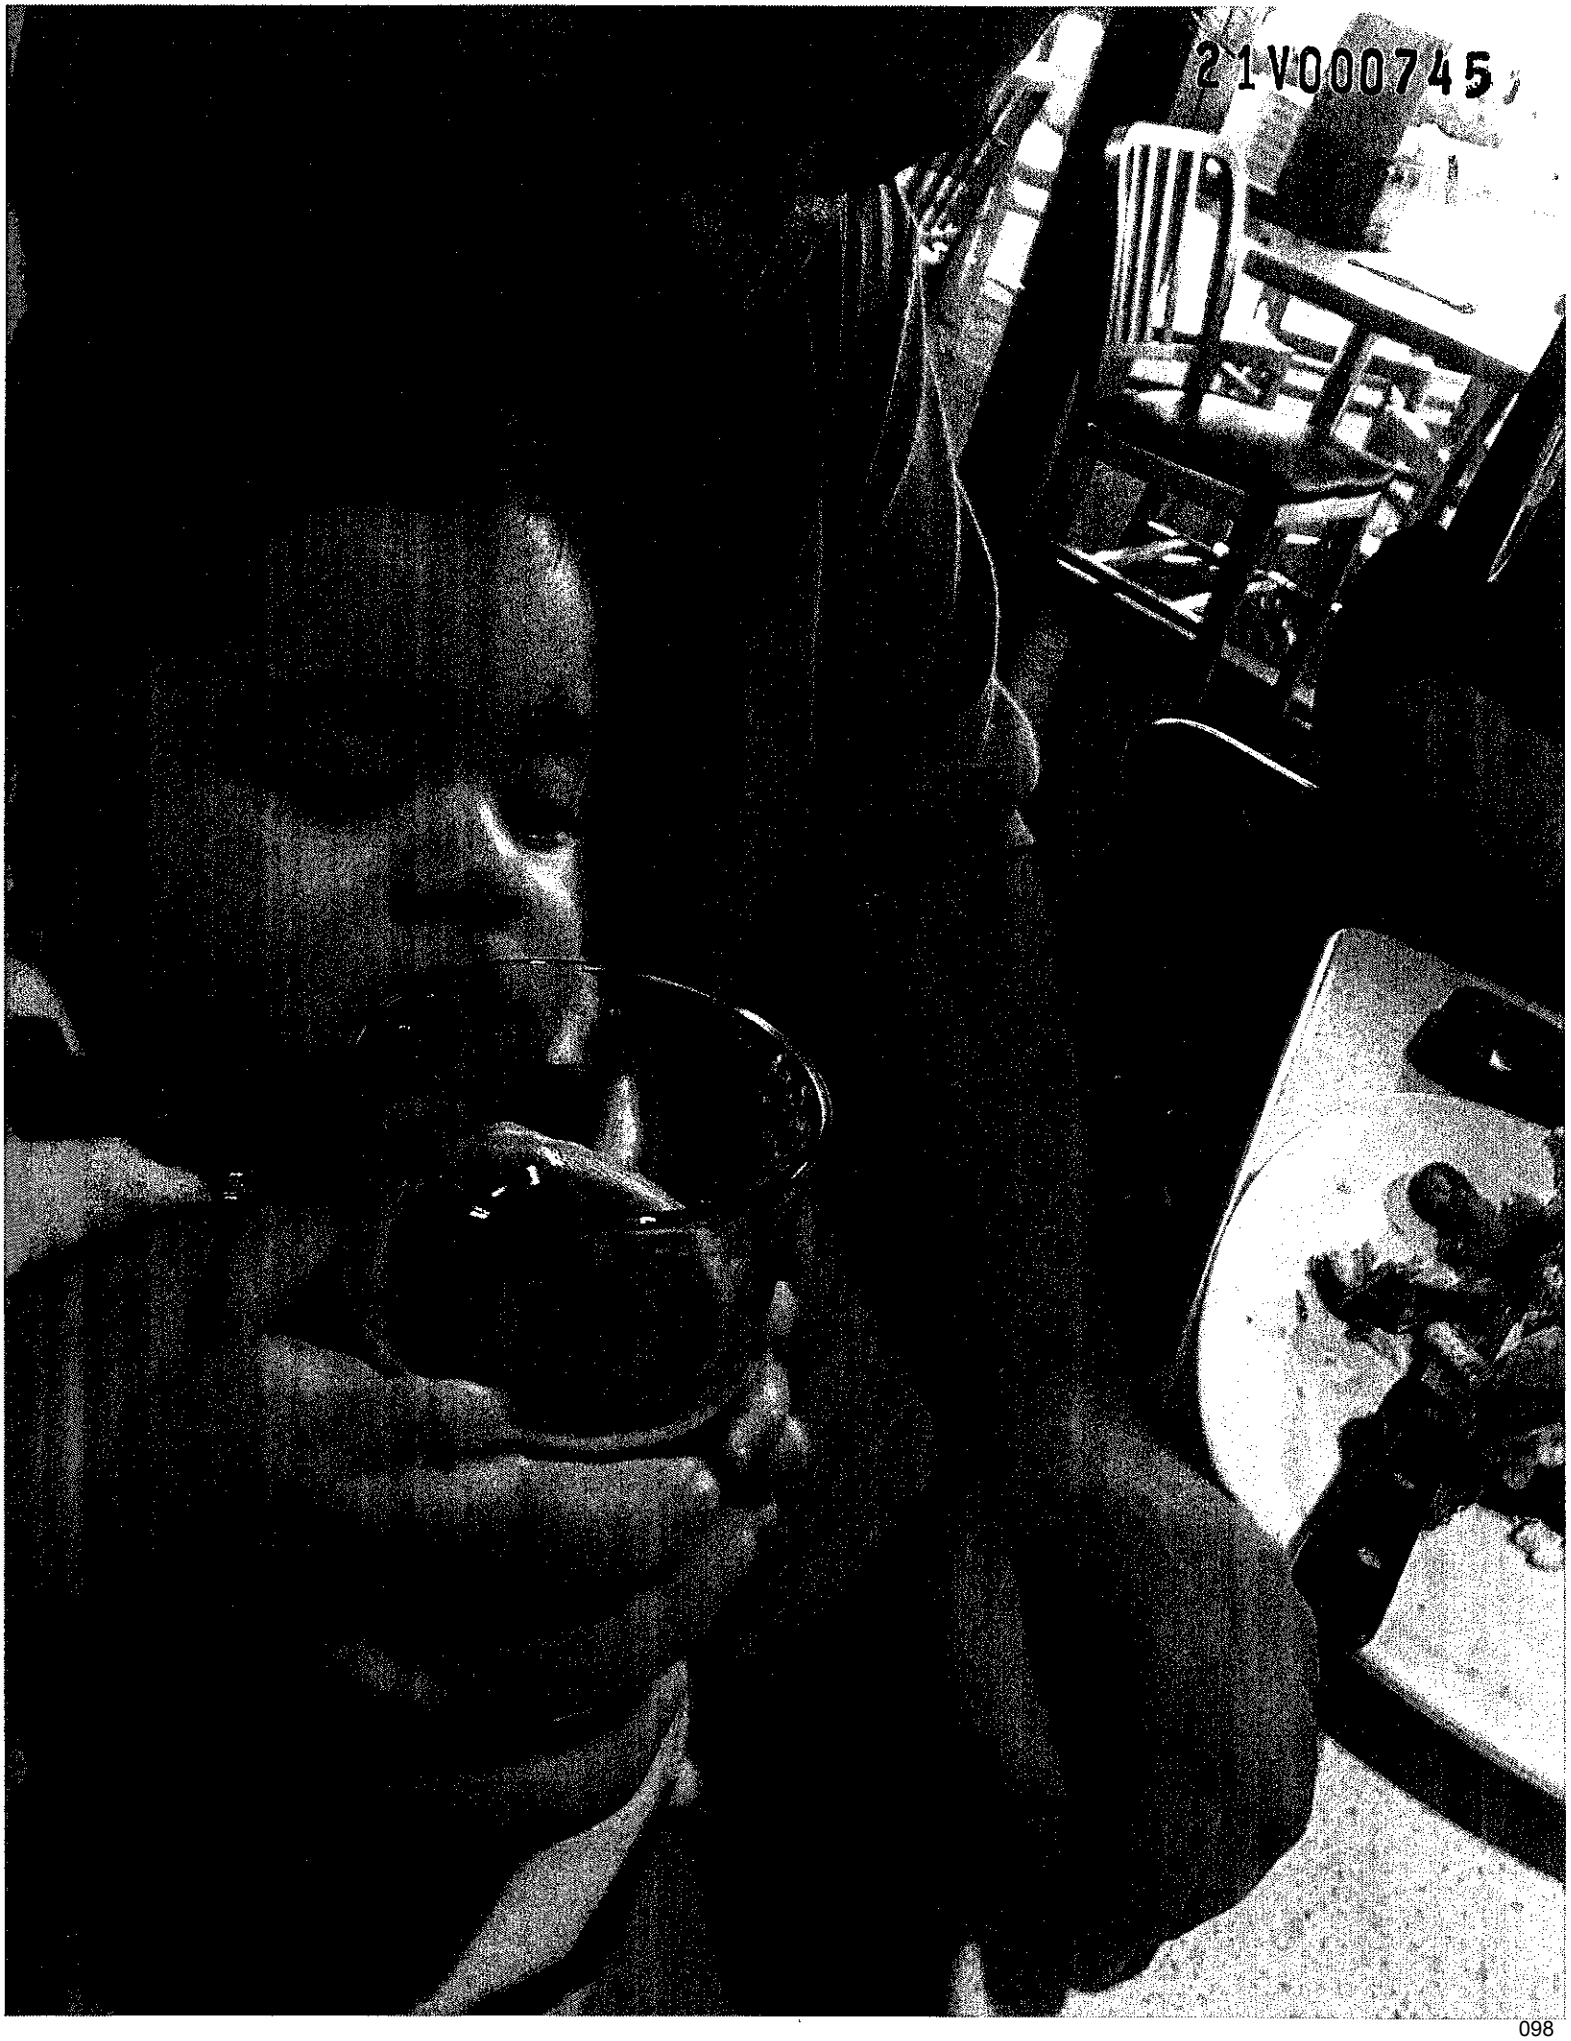

Executed this 22nd day of April, 2021, in Palo Alto, California.

Houston and Dallas-area attorneys charged with fraud

A grand jury has returned indictments against three attorneys and two law firms in Lewisville and Houston. The indictments stem from Texas Division of Workers' Compensation (DWC) Fraud Unit investigations that were referred to DWC's prosecutor embedded in the Travis County District Attorney's Office.

The first round of indictments involve Leslie Casaubon, Roger Farahmand, and the Langford, Wise and Farahmand Law firm. The indictments allege that from July 1, 2017, to August 31, 2019, Casaubon and her staff submitted billing to DWC's attorney fee processing system for work they did not do. Leslie Casaubon is currently under indictment and has a similar matter pending in Travis County's 460th Judicial District Court.

The defendants are charged with engaging in organized crime, a first-degree felony and securing the execution of a document by deception, a second-degree felony. If convicted each could face up to life in prison and a $10,000 dollar fine.

The grand jury also returned indictments against Houston attorney Adam Henderson and the Adam Henderson Law Firm. The indictment alleges that between January 1, 2012, to January 31, 2019, Henderson submitted bills for work he did not do.

The defendants are charged with securing the execution of a document by deception, a first-degree felony and tampering with a government record, a second-degree felony. If convicted each could face up to life in prison and up to a $10,000 fine.

Attorneys who represent injured employees in the Texas workers' compensation system submit their fees through an automated system at DWC. Those fees are taken out of injured employees' benefits. As a result of the false and fraudulent fee bills the defendants were paid more than $900,000.

"When attorneys overbill for services it takes income from injured workers and it prolongs the length of the claim," says Debra Knight, DWC's Deputy Commissioner of Compliance and Investigations. "We appreciate the partnership with the Travis County District Attorney's office in pursuing this type of fraud."

DWC adopted an attorney fee rule in January 2017 to allow DWC to monitor attorney billing more effectively.

An indictment is an allegation of criminal conduct. Defendants are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

If you suspect workers' compensation fraud call 1-844-FRAUD99 (1-844-372-8399) or visit http://www.tdi.texas.gov/wc/ci/wcfraud.html.

Requesting a full record of police report # 201600111444 taken by Officer C. Swiere (1226) to be sent via email or to this fax number.

If possible, please expedite (records needed immediately, by 12/5/17 at the latest). The party against whom the initial report was made began filing false police reports and court records shortly after my report in an effort to obstruct justice, wrongfully initiate criminal charges & prevent reporting evidence of his multi-million dollar fraud to the appropriate agency (I was told to direct my report to the IRS and federal authorities).

DESCRIPTION

NARRATIVE

Report of Roger Arash Farahmand's (brother-in-law) assault of Mahsa Parviz Khyavi (mother) and Clara Parviz Khyavi (10-week-old infant) on 1/11/18 at Creme de la Creme daycare in Plano, TX (narrative attached). Mother was unable to communicate with officers at time of assault due to injuries from the impact and Mr. Farahmand instead falsely claimed that Mother had hit him, alleged she had endangered her child by hitting him, and assisted with a false CPS report alleging the child had a 'laceration' on her eye to have CPS intervene and wrongfully remove the infant from her mother. Mother was on a call with the Non-emergency Plano Police Department, which recorded audio of the entire assault as it occurred.

On Thursday, January 11, 2018 at approximately 4:40 pm, I went to Crème de la Creme daycare in Plano with my 10-week-old daughter, Clara, to pick up my 4-year-old nephew. I had previously called a non-emergency number for the Plano Police Department: (972) 424-5678. The dispatch officer was still on the line when my daughter and I were suddenly assaulted by my brother-in-law, Roger Arash Farahmand (DOB: 7/29/1961), and the audio recording accurately reflects the events as they transpired, including sounds from Roger hitting my daughter and I into a vehicle, as well as my voice in response to the assault. I was injured from the impact of Roger's assault and required emergency medical attention but successfully shielded my daughter from the severe injury that would have resulted had my infant daughter hit the vehicle. [redacted] I was taken to Medical City Plano. The impact of Roger's assault caused me to suffer week-long unilateral paralysis on my left side which was struck into the vehicle and seizure-like convulsions which required medical attention from four separate physicians over the seven days following. I required a wheelchair or walker for approximately ten days following the assault and monitoring for the convulsions which manifest suddenly and without warning. Discharge diagnosis from 1/11/18 included "altered mental status with arm tremor" and another from 1/20/18 included "contusions," for which I have provided photos of the resulting 3x2 inch bruise on my left leg (PHOTO 1). I was not able to effectively communicate with officers at the scene as a result of shock, fear, and musculoskeletal damage from having been unexpectedly and suddenly assaulted by this family member. Roger provided false information to Plano police officers (including Officer David Thornsby #1743) at the scene, alleging that he did not hit my daughter and I and that I hit him, thereby endangering my daughter, and caused my daughter injuries which were falsely reported to CPS as:

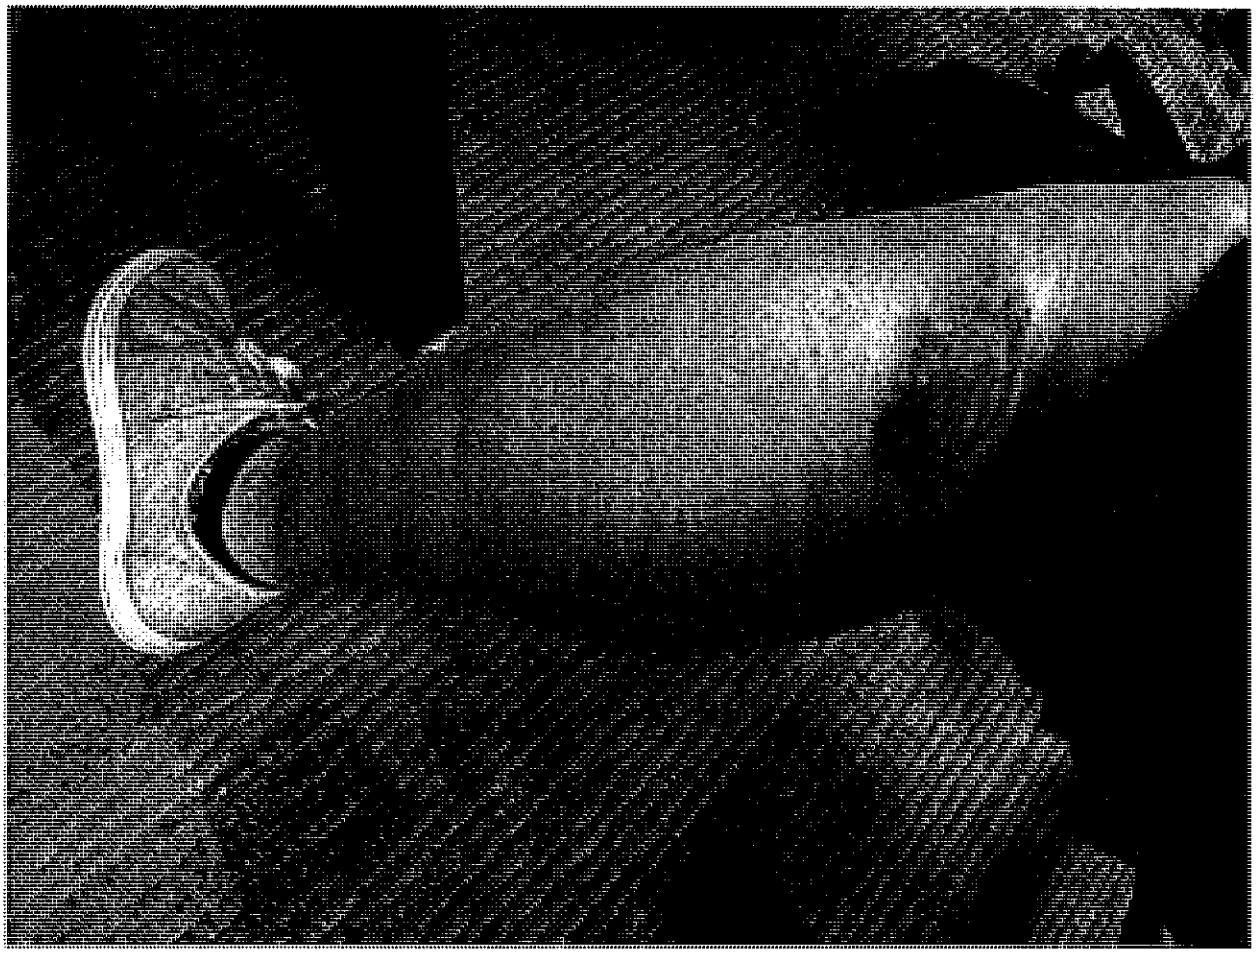

"several marks and abrasions to the face, torso, and back... a laceration above her right eye, left cheek, and pink marks to torso and back..."

I am including true and correct photos of my daughter from after the physical altercation (PHOTO 2) and of the day she was born (PHOTO 3) as proof that the report was false. As I was transported to the hospital, Roger assisted with making this false priority one referral to CPS [redacted] Roger also sought a protective order against me, which the Judge declined on 2/8/18 as she determined I did not commit family violence.

Roger's assaultive conduct threatened serious bodily injury to Clara and I, and caused serious bodily injury to me. The Plano police officer who accompanied me to the hospital (Caucasian female, mid-40s, former middle school teacher) testified that I collapsed at the hospital and she successfully grabbed me to prevent me from hitting the ground, and that I had convulsions throughout the hospital stay. Roger has previously been arrested and convicted for 'assault causes bodily injury' in Dallas county (warrant number 80061173S). Roger has been retaliating against me for over a year following my November 2016 report to the Richardson police department regarding his fraudulent [redacted] and the assault was on account of my service as an informant of these crimes. I have attached the police report which Richardson PD expedited to me due to the exigent circumstances.

I fear he will continue attempts to physically harm my daughter and I as I have recently, between Friday, 2/9/18, to Monday, 2/12/18, received 14 restricted calls; the one call I answered was by the corresponding IP address which was tracked as 76.237.94.9 in Dallas, Texas (his residence at 4715 Stonehollow Way).

THE COMMITTEE OF BAR EXAMINERS' ANSWER TO PETITION FOR REVIEW

I. INTRODUCTION

Applicant Roger Arash Farahmand ("Farahmand") seeks review of the State Bar Court Review Department's determination that he does not possess the requisite good moral character for admission to the practice of law in California. (See Appendix A, Review Department Opinion.)

Farahmand's course of wrongdoing, dating back to the mid-1990's and continuing through 2011, is serious. His misdeeds include inter alia: (1) misrepresentations in his Application for Determination of Moral Character; (2) two Texas State Bar disciplinary actions involving client misconduct – the latter of which resulted in a five year stayed-suspension based also in part on Farahmand's failure to satisfy the professional responsibility program conditions attached to his first discipline; (3) failure to pay employee trust taxes to the IRS, and instead, using those funds to leverage the profitability of his business and ultimately seek personal financial gain; and (4) two misdemeanor convictions for driving under the influence of alcohol – again, the latter resulting in more severe sanctions, including home detention, supervised probation, and mandatory therapy. Most notably, Farahmand's second criminal probationary period ended less than eight months before he filed his moral character application.

Farahmand's multiple acts of misconduct all occurred while he was licensed to practice law in Texas, and therefore bear directly on his appreciation of the fundamental values of the legal profession; they also demonstrate an inability or unwillingness to obey the law and to respect the rights of others; and when viewed cumulatively, they illustrate a systemic pattern of behavior that has continued even during the course of these moral character proceedings.

In light of Farahmand's transgressions, he has a heavy burden of proving reformation, and he is required to demonstrate rehabilitation and "truly exemplary conduct over an extended period of time." (In re Glass (2014) 58 Cal. 4th 500, 521-522 [167 Cal.Rptr.3d 873, 16 P.3d 1199]). He simply has not met this burden.

II. STATEMENT OF PROCEEDINGS

On April 28, 2011, Farahmand filed an Application for Determination of Moral Character. On March 25, 2013, the Committee of Bar Examiners (Committee) issued an adverse determination. On May 22, 2013, Farahmand initiated proceedings in the State Bar Court challenging the Committee's decision. Following a four-day trial (held December 2-5, 2013), the hearing judge found that Farahmand had established the requisite good moral character for admission to practice law in California. (Hearing Department Decision, Appendix B.)

The Committee appealed that decision to the State Bar Court Review Department, and on March 16, 2015, the Review Department issued its opinion reversing the hearing judge's decision, finding that Farahmand demonstrated insufficient rehabilitation and a lack of truly exemplary conduct over an extended period of time.

Farahmand filed a petition for review with this Court on May 15, 2015, and the Committee herein timely responds.

III. STATEMENT OF FACTS

Farahmand was born in Tehran, Iran in 1970, and after coming to the United States with his family and returning to Tehran again as an infant, his family ultimately settled in Dallas, Texas in 1979, when he was eight years old. Farahmand attended grade school and college, and eventually law school in Ohio, and became licensed to practice law in Texas in 1995. He maintained a private practice there until April 1999, when he married and moved to the Philippines for a year. In 2000, he returned to Texas and took over the daily operations of Cedars Hospital, which his wife's family trust owned. Farahmand has since primarily worked in the health care field, working for companies and starting companies that manage hospitals and related facilities.

Basically, Farahmand's prima facie showing of good moral character consists of his education and work history, his entrepreneurial activities in the health care industry, and the testimony of several character witnesses. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, pp. 2-3.)

However, the facts below underscore the extent of Farahmand's misconduct and his inability to establish rehabilitation.

A. Farahmand's Attorney Disciplinary History

Farahmand was admitted to the Texas Bar on May 25, 1995. Within six years of becoming a lawyer, he engaged in a course of serious misconduct that resulted in two separate disciplinary actions.

1. First Imposition of Discipline

In 1996, just one year after his admission, he failed to competently perform legal services for his client. This resulted in formal disciplinary action by the Texas State Bar in 1998. He was issued a private reprimand and ordered to attend the Texas Professional Enhancement Program (PEP). (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 3.)

2. Second Imposition of Discipline

Beginning in 1998 or 1999, Farahmand engaged in two additional acts of client misconduct; he violated his prior disciplinary order by not complying with the PEP requirement; he failed to respond to the Texas State Bar's inquiries; and he failed to maintain a current address with the Texas State Bar. In May 1999, the Texas State Bar filed a complaint against Farahmand, and on May 16, 2001, he was disciplined for a second time, resulting in a five-year stayed suspension. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 4.)

B. Criminal Citation And Convictions

1. Cashing an Insufficient Check

In or about 1994 or 1995, Farahmand pled guilty to a citation for cashing a check with insufficient funds and paid a court-imposed fine of $50.00. (Appendix B, Hearing Department Decision, p. 9.)

2. First Driving Under the Influence Conviction

In October 2000, Farahmand was arrested in Texas for assault and driving while intoxicated (DWI). On March 28, 2001, he pled guilty to and was convicted of a misdemeanor DWI and received a 120-day suspended sentence and 24 months of probation, which included completion of a DWI education program, community service, and a fine. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 6.)

3. Second Driving Under the Influence Conviction

In October 2008, Farahmand was again arrested for driving under the influence (DUI) – this time in Colorado. He pled guilty to DUI with a prior, and on August 31, 2009, he was sentenced to 15 months' supervised probation, 30 days' home detention, community service, and a fine. He was also ordered to undergo 68 hours of therapy. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 6.) Farahmand did not complete all of the terms and conditions of his probation until August 2010 – just eight months before he applied for his moral character determination in California. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 10.)

C. Failure To Remit Payroll Taxes To The IRS And Pay Tax Liens

Farahmand returned from the Philippines in 2000 and took over the daily operations of Cedars Hospital in Texas. The hospital was in dire financial condition – it was in substantial debt, in arrears for over a million dollars to the Internal Review Service (IRS), and under a bankruptcy trustee's supervision from 2000 – 2002. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 5.)

As the general manager of the hospital during this time, Farahmand failed to pay payroll taxes for Cedars' employees. As a result, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) placed a lien of $873,910.43 against the hospital for 2000, 2001, and 2002 unpaid payroll taxes. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 5.)

In 2002, Farahmand purchased the hospital for $5 million dollars and Cedars ceased to be under the bankruptcy trustee's supervision. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 5.)

In March or April 2002, Cedars received a $1 million Medicare payment, but Medicare withdrew it to pay the IRS lien, placing Cedars in a difficult financial position. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 5.) Due to the hospital's sustained financial problems, Farahmand decided to withhold funds from Cedars' employees' wages, but not remit the payroll taxes to the federal government in 2003 and 2004, instead using the funds to keep the hospital afloat. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 5.) On October 13, 2004, the IRS filed a second tax lien in the amount of $632,600.50 for those unpaid taxes. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 5.)

The hospital thereafter negotiated an agreement with the IRS to pay installments of $30,000 per month to satisfy the lien. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 5.) Farahmand testified that beginning in 2004 or 2005, Cedars Hospital became profitable – generating $1.5 million in profits – but he did not fully satisfy the lien until he sold the business in 2006 for about $15,000,000. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, pp. 6, 11.)

D. Failure To Acknowledge And Appreciate Acts Of Wrongdoing

The Review Department found that Farahmand's actions relating to Cedars Hospital were motivated by personal financial gain and not a sense of civic duty to the community (see Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 11), and that his continued insistence throughout the proceedings that his actions were justified illustrated a lack of appreciation and understanding of wrongdoing. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 9.)

The Review Department based its finding on Farahmand's own testimony. When asked if he did anything wrong by failing to pay the payroll taxes, Farahmand stated: "I don't believe I did. I was doing my best to build up the business." (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 6.) Farahmand further testified that he bought the hospital when it was struggling to survive; that his underlying motivation was the hospital's potential profitability (which he viewed as a "goldmine"); and that, in fact, he sold the hospital for more than $10 million over what he paid for it. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, pp. 6, 11.)

E. Lack Of Candor On Moral Character Application

Farahmand submitted his Moral Character Application on April 28, 2011. In the application, Farahmand misrepresented information concerning his employment history by claiming he left his position at Sun-Tzu Management for health reasons, when in fact he had been fired.

(Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 5.)[1] The Review Department found this to be materially false and dishonest. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 7.)

IV. ARGUMENT

A. Standard Of Review

To be qualified to practice law in this state, a person must be of good moral character. (Bus. & Prof. Code, §§ 6060, subd. (b), 6062, subd. (a)(2).) Good moral character includes "qualities of honesty, fairness, candor, trustworthiness, observance of fiduciary responsibility, respect for and obedience to the law, and respect for the rights of others and the judicial process." (State Bar Rule 4.40(B); see also Bus. & Prof. Code, § 6068.) "Protection of the public is paramount to the State Bar (see Bus. & Prof. Code, § 6001.1), and a lawyer's good moral character is essential for the protection of clients and for the proper functioning of the judicial system itself. (See In re Johnson (1992) 1 Cal.4th 689, 705-706 [4 Cal.Rptr.2d 170, 822 P.2d 1317] (conc. & dis. opn. of Kennard, J).)

When an applicant has presented evidence that is sufficient to

[1] There were other issues with inaccuracies and inattention to detail in Farahmand's application – including the fact that Farahmand was required to amend his application on six separate occasions to supply correct and complete information to the Committee. (Appendix A, Hearing Department Decision, p. 7.) The State Bar Court did not consider these additional issues to reflect negatively on his moral character, but it did find that his application was "sloppily prepared", "contain[ed]mistakes and cross-overs", and was submitted "below the level of professional presentation." (Appendix A, Hearing Department Decision, p. 7.)

establish a prima facie case of his or her good moral character, the burden shifts to the State Bar to rebut that case with evidence of poor moral character. Once the State Bar has presented the necessary evidence, the burden "falls squarely upon the applicant to demonstrate his [or her] rehabilitation." (In re Gossage (2000) 23 Cal.4th 1080, 1096 [99 Cal.Rptr.2d 130, 5 P.3d 186].) The more egregious the misconduct, the stronger the applicant's showing of rehabilitation must be, and in cases where serious or criminal misconduct is involved, positive inferences about the applicant's moral character are more difficult to draw, and negative character inferences are stronger and more reasonable. (In re Glass, supra, 58 Cal.4th at p. 521.) In such cases, the applicant must demonstrate that they are "no longer the same person who behaved so poorly in the past," and that they have since "behaved in exemplary fashion over a meaningful period of time." (Ibid.)

B. Taking Into Account The Totality Of Circumstances, Farahmand Has Not Demonstrated A Sustained Period Of Exemplary Conduct Following Years Of Serious Misconduct

The amount of rehabilitative evidence required to justify admission varies according to the nature and extent of the misconduct at issue. (In re Menna (1995) 11 Cal.4th 975, 987 [47 Cal.Rptr.2d 2, 905 P.2d 944].) An applicant's required showing of rehabilitation increases with the severity and scope of the underlying conduct. (In re Gossage, supra, 23 Cal.4th at p. 1097 [only "compelling showing of reform" will suffice in light of the egregiousness of the misconduct].) Where, as here, the misconduct is undisputedly serious in nature (see Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 7), the applicant must demonstrate reformation from his prior bad acts and exemplary conduct over a sustained period of time. Given Farahmand's protracted history of moral shortcomings, including prior attorney disciplinary sanctions, criminal convictions, and financial improprieties, he has a heavy burden to carry.

1. No Sustained Period of Time to Demonstrate Reform

First and foremost, Farahmand has no sustained period of rehabilitation to evaluate because he submitted his Moral Character Application only two and a half years after his second criminal conviction occurred and just eight months after his criminal probation period ended.

Given his pattern of misconduct beginning in the mid-1990's, this is not enough time to establish sustained exemplary conduct, particularly in light of the fact that "[g]ood conduct generally is expected from someone whose character is under scrutiny" of law enforcement or of the State Bar. (See In re Glass, supra, 58 Cal.4th at p. 525; In re Gossage, supra, 23 Cal.4th at p. 1099.) Little weight is placed on the fact that a bar applicant did not commit additional crimes or engage in further bad behavior while in prison or while on probation. (In re Gossage, supra, 23 Cal.4th at p. 1099; see also Seide v. Committee of Bar Examiners (1989) 49 Cal.3d 933, 939 [264 Cal.Rptr. 361, 782 P.2d 602] ["It is not enough that petitioner kept out of trouble while being watched on probation; he must affirmatively demonstrate over a prolonged period his sincere regret and rehabilitation."]

Cases authorizing admission on the basis of rehabilitation commonly involve a substantial period of exemplary conduct following the applicant's misdeeds. (See e.g., Kwasnik v. State Bar (1990) 50 Cal.3d 1061,1071-1072 [269 Cal.Rptr. 749, 791 P.2d 319][emphasizing a nine-and-a-half year period that elapsed since applicant wrongfully evaded payment of a civil judgment]; Hall v. Committee of Bar Examiners (1979) 25 Cal.3d 730, 742[159 Cal.Rptr. 848, 602 P.2d 768] [stressing importance of six-year period in which no complaints were lodged against applicant's employment business after his business license was temporarily suspended by an administrative agency]; In re Menna, supra, 11 Cal.4th at p. 989 [holding that applicant's five and one-half years of unsupervised good conduct not a sufficient period of time to demonstrate genuine reform considering prior misconduct].)

In addition, the Review Department outlined instances of dishonesty and disingenuousness persisting throughout his moral character proceedings, including the material misrepresentation he made on his Moral Character Application and his lack of understanding of wrongdoing regarding his failure to remit payroll taxes for the employees at Cedars Hospital. The recent transgressions believe any claim of sustained rehabilitation.

Here, plain and simple – not enough time has elapsed since his last criminal conviction and probationary period, and Farahmand does not have the necessary period of abated misbehavior and truly exemplary conduct to provide context for any showing of rehabilitation.

2. Failure to Establish the High Level of Rehabilitation Required for Admission to Practice Law in California

Farahmand takes great lengths in his Petition to distinguish his acts from those of Stephen Glass. (See Petition, pp. 11-13.) No one is claiming that Farahmand's misconduct is on par with that of Stephen Glass, although when viewed cumulatively, there is no question that Farahmand's conduct is of a various serious nature. In In re Glass, this Court simply reaffirmed the sliding scale of proof required of applicants to establish their rehabilitation from past misdeeds. "'[T]he more serious the misconduct and the bad character evidence, the stronger the applicant's showing of rehabilitation must be.'" (Glass, supra, 58 Cal.4th at p. 520, citing In re Gossage, supra, 23 Cal. 4th at p. 1096.) An applicant must show that they have since "behaved in exemplary fashion over a meaningful period of time."

The Hearing Department in this case found that Farahmand had established rehabilitation, but the hearing judge focused on whether there was a "risk of [Farahmand] repeating his misconduct" and determined the risk here was remote. The judge was convinced that Farahmand had learned from his past transgressions and now understood and respected the ethical duties that an attorney is required to possess. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 6; Appendix B, Hearing Department Decision, p. 16.) However, as duly noted by the Review Department, in reaching this decision about Farahmand's moral character, the hearing judge employed the wrong test by considering his subjective state of mind of the likelihood of recidivism. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 6.) The correct analysis, as discussed by this Court in In re Glass, is whether he has shown through objective measures – truly exemplary conduct over an extended period of time.

Here, in addition to Farahmand recent acts of dishonesty and disingenuousness on his moral character application and in his moral character proceedings, Farahmand has been disciplined twice by the Texas State Bar for professional misconduct, he has two criminal DUI convictions and one criminal citation involving financial impropriety, and he demonstrated a severe breach of fiduciary duties by failing to remit payroll taxes to the IRS – conduct that is tantamount to misappropriation of entrusted funds.

Farahmand's multiple acts of misconduct are particularly reprehensible because they all took place while he was a licensed attorney in Texas, when the importance of professional ethics, honesty, and respect for the laws and others should have had significance for him.

In light of the record, Farahmand must demonstrate a high level of reform. However, Farahmand provided modest rehabilitation evidence at best – 13 character witnesses who testified on his behalf, and evidence of his for-profit entrepreneurial efforts in the health care industry. As duly noted by the Review Department, character witnesses "will not suffice by itself to establish rehabilitation" (see Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 11, citing In re Glass, supra, 58 Cal.4th at p. 525) and, although his health care initiatives are admirable, they are diminished by the fact that they are motivated by personal financial gain. (See Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 11-12.)

Farahmand's showing is insufficient to meet his burden of rehabilitation in this case and to hold him out with confidence as someone who should be admitted to practice law in this state.

C. Farahmand's Claimed Evidentiary Issues Lack Merit

In his Petition, Farahmand attempts to discredit one of the Committee's arguments by arguing several inapt evidentiary issues.

First, Farahmand claims that the fact that the original Moral Character Application was not fully introduced at trial dismisses any claims that he made misrepresentations in the application. (See Petition, p. 14.) The hearing judge, however, indicated to the contrary – that much of the Application was introduced into evidence (it was just not intact – leading to some confusion.) (Appendix B, Hearing Department Decision, p. 7.)

More importantly, there is no dispute that there was substantial testimonial evidence during the trial regarding the Application, and both the hearing judge and the Review Department found that Farahmand admitted that he had been fired from his job at Sun-Tzu when he represented in his Moral Character Application that he had left for health reasons. (Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, p. 5; Appendix B, Hearing Department Decision, p. 8.)

Next, Farahmand claims that the evidentiary record does not support a finding that he engaged in serious acts of moral turpitude by not remitting payroll taxes to the IRS. Again, he tries to argue that his transgressions were not as bad as those of Stephen Glass. (See Petition, p. 17.) And again, no one is comparing him to Stephen Glass, and nowhere in the Review Department Opinion does it mention that this was considered an act of moral turpitude. Nonetheless, Farahmand actions are serious and demonstrate a lack of good moral character.

There is no dispute that Farahmand was required to remit employee trust taxes to the IRS. 26 U.S.C. section 6672 requires employers to collect, truthfully account for, and pay employee payroll taxes.[2] An employer who

[2] 26 U.S.C. section 6672(a) provides: "Any person required to collect, truthfully account for, and pay over any tax imposed by this title who willfully fails to collect such tax, or truthfully account for and pay over such tax, or willfully attempts in any manner to evade or defeat any such tax or the payment thereof, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by fails to pay taxes withheld from its employees' wages is, of course, liable for the taxes which should have been paid (see 26 U.S.C. §§ 3102(b) and 3403), and is subject to penalties. (Slodov v. U. S. (1978) 436 U.S. 238, 243 [98 S.Ct. 1778, 56 L.Ed.2d 251].)

Payroll taxes withheld from employees' wages are considered "trust funds." (26 U.S.C. § 7512(b).)[3] Failure to remit these taxes is grounds for the federal government to attempt to collect and remedy the situation through a variety of means, including the full range of collection methods available for the collection of taxes generally (see 26 U.S.C. §§ 6231, 6331 – 6344); imposition of civil penalties (see 26 U.S.C. §§ 6656, 6672); and criminal prosecution. (See 26 U.S.C. §§ 7202, 7215; Slodov, supra, at p. 243; see also e.g. Cal. Labor Code § 227 [making it a crime under California law].)

law, be liable to a penalty equal to the total amount of the tax evaded, or not collected, or not accounted and paid over...."

[3] 26 U.S.C. section 7512(b) provides that: "Any person who is required to collect, account for, and pay over any tax imposed by subtitle C [Employment Taxes] or chapter 33, if notice has been delivered to such person in accordance with subsection (a), shall collect the taxes imposed by subtitle C or chapter 33 which become collectible after delivery of such notice, shall (not later than the end of the second banking day after any amount of such taxes is collected) deposit such amount in a separate account in a bank (as defined in [26 U.S.C. § 581]), and shall keep the amount of such taxes in such account until payment over to the United States. Any such account shall be designated as a special fund in trust for the United States, payable to the United States by such person as trustee. [Emphasis added]."

by failing to pay employee payroll taxes:

> [T]he court was at first troubled by the IRS tax liens filed against [Farahmand] while managing Cedars Hospital. However, the court can find no acts of intentional misconduct in his failure to promptly pay the tax liens. [Farahmand] was faced with two options: pay the liens and close the hospital or not pay the liens and keep the hospital open.... [Farahmand]'s keeping the hospital open was a great achievement.

(Appendix B, Hearing Department Decision, p. 16.)

The hearing judge's logic is flawed, however, and contrary to established precedent. Courts have specifically rejected the argument that an employer should not be liable for penalties under section 6672 because they made a reasonable or shrewd business decision to withhold and not pay over employee trust taxes:

> [T]he Ninth Circuit has explicitly rejected ... 'reasonable cause' arguments in section 6672 cases. As the courts have repeated countless times, '[n]o bad motive need be proved, and conduct motivated by a reasonable cause, such as meeting payroll, may be "willful."' [Citations omitted]. Additionally, the Ninth Circuit has held that [such] excuses, 'simply amount [] to [allegations] of 'reasonable cause' or 'justifiable excuse,' a defense that has been specifically rejected by this court.' Sorenson v. United States, 521 F.2d 325, 329 (9th Cir. 1975).

(Baimbridge v. U.S. (2004) 335 F.Supp.2d 1084, 1091.)

Farahmand made a purposeful choice to withhold taxes in order to keep his for-profit business afloat. As recognized by the Review Department, this is a willful violation of law that demonstrates poor moral character. (See Appendix A, Review Department Opinion, pp. 8-9, citing

In the Matter of Morales (1983) 35 Cal.3d 1, 6 [196 Cal.Rptr. 353, 671 P.2d 857].)

In the Matter of Morales, this Court held that it was disciplinable misconduct to not pay employee payroll taxes:

> Petitioner, having paid his employees only their 'net' wages, appears to have misused funds held in trust for those employees. Petitioner had the duty, as an employer and a trustee, to withhold proper payroll deductions and to pay them to the state. (Unemp. & Ins. Code, sections 986, 211.5). The monies withheld belonged to the employees, not to petitioner or his corporation. By failing to maintain the withheld funds in trust for his employees, petitioner in essence commingled those funds with his own and misappropriated them for his own benefit. We find no justification for petitioner's misconduct. His reasons for failing to pay the taxes differ little in kind from those confronting many a harried taxpayer, who would not be relieved thereby from such obligation.
> Petitioner made an illegal business decision concerning the allocation of available funds between competing obligations.... Further, petitioner's decision to allocate his available funds to other creditors, rather than to the state, was clearly willful. We have held the term 'willful' does not require evil intent, but it implies that the person knows what he is doing, intends to do what he is doing, and is a free agent...

(In the Matter of Morales, supra, at pp. 5-6.)

Although the majority of the Court in Morales never reached the issue, in her concurring opinion, Chief Justice Bird reasoned that Morales' misconduct involved dishonesty and, therefore, moral turpitude:

> Each of the 27 crimes of which petitioner was convicted involved his failure to pay taxes and unemployment insurance contributions with funds withheld from employee paychecks for that purpose. Petitioner committed these crimes without the knowledge or consent of his employees. This wilful and dishonest misconduct which prejudiced the rights of his employees meets the moral turpitude standard defined in Fahey [In re Fahey (1973) 8 Cal. 3d 842].

(In the Matter of Morales, supra, at p. 9 (conc. opn. of Bird, J).)

Here, although never relied upon by the Review Department, the Committee, in its briefing before the Review Department, made the sound argument that Farahmand's misconduct similarly involved acts of moral turpitude. His failure to pay employee trust taxes were repeated and willful violations of his professional and fiduciary obligations to his employees. He violated the duty to hold these taxes in trust, and his use of the money to make his business more profitable equates to a misappropriation of entrusted funds. He engaged in this course of conduct while holding his license to practice law in Texas. This is virtually indistinguishable from an attorney's intentional misappropriation of entrusted funds and his taking those funds for his personal use. (See Edwards vs. State Bar (1990) 52 Cal. 3d 28, 37-38 [276 Cal.Rptr. 153, 801 P.2d 396], McKnight vs. State Bar (1991) 53 Cal. 3d 1025, 1034-1035 [281 Cal.Rptr. 766, 810 P.2d 998].) Both involve moral turpitude, dishonesty, or corruption.

Regardless of whether his failure to remit payroll taxes involved moral turpitude or not – it is a serious and intentional violation of the law and his fiduciary duties. This transgression, along with his two Texas attorney disciplinary actions, his criminal convictions, and his lack of candor and acknowledgment of wrong-doing unquestionably establish severe moral shortcomings that warrant an adverse moral character determination.

V. CONCLUSION

Farahmand has committed multiple and egregious acts of misconduct and failed to demonstrate the requisite rehabilitation necessary for attorney licensure in this state. In light of the State Bar's paramount duty to protect the public against persons unfit to practice law, the Committee respectfully requests that this Court deny his Petition for Review and decline to certify him for admission to the bar.

REVIEW DEPARTMENT

In the Matter of	)	Case No. 13-M-12914
ROGER ARASH FARAHMAND,	)	OPINION
Applicant for Admission.	)

The Committee of Bar Examiners of the State Bar (Committee) appeals a hearing judge's determination that Roger Arash Farahmand, a member of the Texas State Bar, possesses the good moral character required for admission to practice law in California. The Committee argues that Farahmand lacks the requisite good moral character because he has two prior records of discipline in Texas, made misrepresentations in his moral character application, failed to pay employee payroll taxes, and had two alcohol-related driving convictions. In response, Farahmand contends that he proved that he is rehabilitated following his wrongdoing. After independently reviewing the record (Cal. Rules of Court, rule 9.12), we find that Farahmand has failed to establish his rehabilitation and failed to show truly exemplary conduct over an extended period of time.

I. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Farahmand filed a Confidential Application and Questionnaire for Determination of Moral Character in April 2011. The Committee issued an adverse moral character determination in March 2013. Following a four-day trial in December 2013, a hearing judge found Farahmand qualified for admission to practice law in this state.

II. MORAL CHARACTER PROCEEDINGS

The California Supreme Court "may admit to the practice of law any applicant whose qualifications have been certified to it by the Committee of Bar Examiners . . . (Bus. & Prof. Code, § 6064.)" (Kwasnik v. State Bar (1990) 50 Cal.3d 1061, 1067.) To qualify to practice law in this state, a person must be of good moral character. (Bus. & Prof. Code, §§ 6060, subd. (b), 6062, subd. (a)(2).) "Good moral character includes 'qualities of honesty, fairness, candor, trustworthiness, observance of fiduciary responsibility, respect for and obedience to the law, and respect for the rights of others and the judicial process.' [Citation.]" (In re Glass (2014) 58 Cal.4th 500, 520 (Glass).)

The procedures in moral character hearings are well-established. The applicant must first present a prima facie case showing good moral character. (In re Menna (1995) 11 Cal.4th 975, 984.) The burden then shifts to the Committee to rebut that showing with evidence of poor moral character. (Glass, supra, 58 Cal.4th at p. 520.) Once the Committee rebuts the applicant's showing, "the burden 'falls squarely upon the applicant to demonstrate his [or her] rehabilitation.' [Citation.]" (Ibid.)

III. FACTUAL AND LEGAL CONCLUSIONS

A. Farahmand Met His Prima Facie Showing of Good Moral Character

Farahmand moved from Iran to the United States when he was eight years old. His family settled in Dallas, Texas, where he excelled academically. He attended the University of Wisconsin in Madison when he was 16, joined a fraternity, and became the social chairman. Farahmand began to focus on his social life to the neglect of his studies. His resulting poor academic performance forced him to leave the university for one semester in 1990.

Farahmand reapplied himself to his academics at a local junior college and returned to the University of Wisconsin after May 1990. With no further academic problems, he graduated in December 1991, and later attended the University of Dayton School of Law. After graduating in 1995, Farahmand was admitted to the practice of law in Texas in May 1995. He then earned an advanced degree in taxation from the University of Denver College of Law in Colorado.

Once he was a member of the Texas State Bar, Farahmand worked for an attorney in his general practice. When that attorney died suddenly, Farahmand and a former law school classmate formed a partnership. Farahmand maintained his private practice until he relocated to the Philippines in 1999, and transitioned into the healthcare field. When he returned to Texas in 2000, he took over the daily operations of Cedars Hospital, which his wife's family trust owned.

In 2007, Farahmand co-created Enterhealth, an online program to assist individuals with alcohol and drug addictions. His programs were sold to Employee Assistance Programs. Additionally, Enterhealth opened drug and alcohol rehabilitation programs in Texas. In 2010, Farahmand sold the majority of his shares in the company for $2.3 million, but retained five percent ownership.

B. The Committee's Rebuttal Evidence

1. Farahmand's 1998 and 2001 Texas Disciplines

In 1998, the State Bar of Texas disciplined Farahmand for misconduct occurring in 1996 and 1997. Mike Ghani hired Farahmand to represent him in a lawsuit that another attorney filed on Ghani's behalf. Farahmand had a scheduling conflict and missed Ghani's March 19, 1996 trial date. The trial court "rendered" a judgment against Ghani. Farahmand filed another lawsuit for Ghani in the same matter, but did not conduct any discovery. Since he did not appear for the March 12, 1997 trial date, the court dismissed the case for lack of prosecution. Ghani sued Farahmand and his law partner and received a judgment against them, which Farahmand paid. The State Bar of Texas gave Farahmand a private reprimand and ordered him to attend Professional Enhancement Program (PEP) sessions.

In 2001, the State Bar of Texas disciplined Farahmand a second time for failing to comply with the PEP condition of his 1998 private reprimand; failing to update his address with the Texas State Bar after he moved to the Philippines in 1999; and misconduct in two client matters. In the first matter, Farahmand failed to file a lawsuit on behalf of his client, Dr. Kamran Algilani, and in the second, he settled his client Maritza McCoomis's bodily injury claim but failed to notify her when he received the settlement check. Farahmand never responded to the Texas State Bar's inquiries into either matter. He received a five-year "probated" suspension for his misconduct.[1] Farahmand explained that his misconduct resulted from his move to the Philippines. Before he relocated, he transferred both matters to his law partner, but never informed his clients of his move or that he transferred their files.

2. Inaccuracies in Moral Character Application

Farahmand's moral character application contained three inaccuracies, two of which involved his explanations of his Texas discipline. In the first misrepresentation, Farahmand described his misconduct in the Ghani matter, which led to his 1998 discipline, by merely stating, "I missed a court date." He did not disclose that he missed the trial dates in two different lawsuits, which clearly prejudiced his client. The hearing judge found that this inaccuracy did not adversely affect Farahmand's moral character because an attachment to his application disclosed that he missed both trial dates.

The second inaccuracy concerned Farahmand's material misrepresentation about his 2001 Texas discipline (involving the Algilani and McCoomis matters) that the final disposition was "no misconduct." This was untrue because, in fact, the Texas State Bar disciplined him. Again, the hearing judge did not find this misrepresentation reflected poorly on Farahmand's moral character because "elsewhere in his application, it is noted that Applicant received a five-year fully probated sanction."

The final discrepancy in Farahmand's application concerned his employment history. He stated that he left his position at Sun-Tzu Management because of his "Health," which contradicted his own testimony during the moral character hearing. Farahmand testified that he became stressed after Sun-Tzu relieved him of his general management duties in March 1999, which led to a two-week hospitalization. However, he testified he was actually "fired" in September 1999 because his management philosophy differed from the company's shareholders.

3. Failure to Pay Payroll Taxes

Farahmand assumed responsibility for the daily operations of Cedars Hospital in Texas when he returned from the Philippines in March 2000. He purchased the hospital for about $5,000,000 in 2002.

Prior to the purchase, the hospital was under a bankruptcy trustee's supervision from 2000 through 2002. During that time, Farahmand failed to pay payroll taxes for Cedars's employees. As a result, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) placed a lien of $873,910.43 against the hospital for 2000, 2001, and 2002 unpaid payroll taxes. In March or April 2002, Cedars received a $1 million Medicare payment, but Medicare withdrew it to pay the IRS lien, placing Cedars in a difficult financial position. Due to the hospital's financial problems, Farahmand withheld funds from Cedars's employees' wages, but failed to pay payroll taxes in 2003 and 2004. The IRS filed a $632,600.50 tax lien for those unpaid payroll taxes. Cedars was no longer under the bankruptcy trustee's supervision when Farahmand decided not to pay the IRS in 2003 and 2004.

The hospital negotiated an agreement with the IRS to pay $30,000 per month to satisfy the $632,600.50 tax lien. Farahmand testified that the hospital generated $1.5 million in profits beginning in 2004 or 2005, but he did not fully satisfy the IRS lien until he sold Cedars in 2006. When asked if he did anything wrong by failing to pay the payroll taxes, he stated, "I don't believe I did. I was doing my best to build up the business." He also explained, "It was survival, in the sense that, you know, we wouldn't have survived if the hospital had been shut down."

4. Driving Under the Influence Convictions

In October 2000, Farahmand was arrested in Texas for assault and driving while intoxicated (DWI). The assault charge stemmed from an incident between Farahmand and security personnel at a bar earlier in the evening. When he drove away after the episode, he was stopped for a possible DWI. He pled guilty to a misdemeanor DWI charge, and received a 120-day suspended sentence and 24 months of probation, which included completion of a DWI education program, community service, and a fine. The judgment was entered March 28, 2001.

In October 2008, Farahmand was arrested for driving under the influence (DUI) in Colorado; he pled guilty to a DUI with a prior. In August 2009, he was sentenced to 15 months' supervised probation, 30 days' home detention, community service, and a fine. He was also ordered to undergo 68 hours of therapy. Farahmand completed all of the terms and conditions of his probation in August 2010.

IV. NO SUSTAINED PERIOD OF EXEMPLARY CONDUCT AND INSUFFICIENT SHOWING OF REHABILITATION

In finding Farahmand established the requisite good moral character to practice law, the hearing judge stated, "the risk of Applicant repeating his misconduct is remote." The judge was convinced that Farahmand learned from his past transgressions and understands and respects the ethical duties an attorney is required to possess. In reaching his decision about Farahmand's moral character, the hearing judge employed the wrong test by considering the likelihood of Farahmand repeating his misconduct. The correct analysis requires consideration of whether he has shown truly exemplary conduct over an extended period.

The Committee argues that Farahmand is required, pursuant to Glass, supra, 58 Cal.4th 500, to make "a compelling showing of rehabilitation and truly exemplary conduct over an extended period" for State Bar admission. (Id. at p. 522.) The amount of evidence of rehabilitation required to justify admission varies according to the seriousness of the misconduct at issue. (Kwasnik, supra, 50 Cal.3d at p. 1086 (dis. opn. of Lucas, C. J.).) Farahmand's misconduct was not as egregious as in Glass; therefore, "compelling" rehabilitation is not required. However, the seriousness of his misconduct and its direct relationship to his fitness to practice law warrant substantial evidence of rehabilitation. We find that Farahmand has not established a lengthy period of truly exemplary conduct or the necessary rehabilitation that "would suffice to demonstrate his fitness to practice law." (Glass, supra, 58 Cal.4th at p. 522.)

A. No Truly Exemplary Conduct Over an Extended Period

" 'Cases authorizing admission on the basis of rehabilitation commonly involve a substantial period of exemplary conduct following the applicant's misdeeds.' [Citation.]" (In re Glass, supra, 58 Cal.4th at p. 520.) Here, Farahmand's acts of wrongdoing demonstrate the absence of a sustained period of exemplary behavior.

1. Material Misrepresentations in Application

The Committee argues that Farahmand's moral character application contains material misrepresentations about his Texas disciplines and his reason for leaving Sun-Tzu. We agree that it was materially false for Farahmand to state that he left Sun-Tzu for health reasons when the company actually fired him. His explanation was dishonest. Honesty is absolutely fundamental in the practice of law; without it, " ' " 'the profession is worse than valueless in the place it holds in the administration of justice.' " ' " (In re Menna, supra, 11 Cal.4th at p. 989.) "[M]anifest dishonesty . . . provide[s] a reasonable basis for the conclusion that the applicant or attorney cannot be relied upon to fulfill the moral obligations incumbent upon members of the legal profession." (Hallinan v. Committee of Bar Examiners (1966) 65 Cal.2d 447, 471.) This material misrepresentation demonstrates that Farahmand has "not acted with the 'high degree of frankness and truthfulness' and the 'high standard of integrity' required by this process." (In re Gossage (2000) 23 Cal.4th 1080, 1102.)

We do not find that Farahmand misrepresented the circumstances surrounding his 1998 Texas discipline. His description was truthful, albeit incomplete. Although he did falsely represent the result of his 2001 Texas discipline, the record lacks evidence that this misrepresentation or the incomplete disclosure about his 1998 discipline was done with the intent to deceive. "Since the omitted information was contained in other parts of the [application] and there was no intent to deceive or conceal, we conclude that the inaccuracies . . . do not reflect adversely on [Farahmand's] rehabilitation and present moral fitness." (In the Matter of Rudman (Review Dept. 1993) 2 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 546, 555.)

2. Intentional Failure to Pay Payroll Taxes

The hearing judge found "no acts of intentional misconduct in [Farahmand's] failure to promptly pay the tax liens" because he did not ignore them and his ability to keep "the hospital open was a great achievement." The Committee argues that the hearing judge's reasoning is flawed because Farahmand committed misconduct by willfully failing to pay taxes. We agree.

Farahmand's failure to pay $632,600.50 in payroll taxes for 2003 and 2004 undermines his claim of rehabilitation. Taxes withheld from employees' wages are considered "trust funds" that must be kept in a special trust fund for the United States until payment is made. (26 U.S.C. § 7512(b).) Civil penalties are imposed for failure to pay the taxes. (26 U.S.C. §§ 6656, 6672.) Additionally, it is a crime to willfully fail to pay these taxes. (26 U.S.C. §§ 7202, 7215.)

Farahmand misused the funds held in trust by paying his employees only their net wages. (In re Morales (1983) 35 Cal.3d 1, 6.) He had "the duty, as an employer and a trustee, to withhold the proper payroll deductions and to pay them to the [IRS]." (Ibid.) Farahmand "made an illegal business decision concerning the allocation of available funds between competing obligations." (Ibid.) "His reasons for failing to pay the taxes differ little in kind or degree from those confronting many a harried taxpayer, who would not be relieved thereby from such obligation." (Ibid.) This misconduct demonstrates a willful violation of federal law and demonstrates a lack of good moral character.[2]

Farahmand's claim that his misconduct was justified because he was trying to prevent the hospital's closure illustrates his lack of understanding that his conduct was wrong. As the Supreme Court observed, "[f]ully acknowledging the wrongfulness [of past misconduct] is an essential step towards rehabilitation. [Citations.]" (Seide v. Committee of Bar Examiners (1989) 49 Cal.3d 933, 940.) Contending that he has done nothing wrong, he demonstrates his lack of rehabilitation.

We reject Farahmand's argument that the Committee is judicially estopped from arguing that it was improper for him to willfully fail to pay Cedars's employee payroll taxes because the Committee conceded "it was an achievement" for Farahmand to turn Cedars around when it had "massive tax debt and massive liabilities." It described that accomplishment as "a very big achievement for any person" and "a feather in his cap." The Committee's compliments did not absolve Farahmand for failing to pay the IRS. Instead, it argued that, "He didn't pay when he was able, a massive tax debt." Rather than "paying that tax debt . . . [h]e was generous with his friends. But he didn't pay his obligations. Mr. Farahmand made a business decision not to pay taxes." The Committee is not estopped from making its arguments about Farahmand's failure to pay the payroll taxes since, despite acknowledging his accomplishments, it continuously took the position that his conduct was improper.

3. Recent DUI Conviction

During these proceedings, Farahmand provided a November 14, 2013 alcohol and substance abuse report from a psychiatrist named John M. Talmadge, M.D. Dr. Talmadge evaluated Farahmand for two hours and determined that he "does not have a present problem related to alcohol, drugs, addictive chemicals, or substance abuse of any kind." He opined that Farahmand's two DUI convictions occurred several years apart, and therefore showed "no pattern of ongoing misuse of alcohol or other substances in his history."[3]

The hearing judge acknowledged that Farahmand's 2009 DUI conviction "occurred only five years ago," but his "subsequent court-ordered therapy sessions played a significant role in helping him change his life." The judge also found credible Dr. Talmadge's expert opinion that Farahmand has no problems with alcohol.

However, we agree with the Committee that even with this medical evaluation, not enough time has elapsed to demonstrate rehabilitation after his conviction. Farahmand committed his second DUI just two and one-half years before submitting his moral character application in April 2011. This is insufficient to demonstrate a period of exemplary conduct, particularly since his criminal probation on his second DUI ended only eight months before he filed his application. (In re Menna, supra, 11 Cal.4th 975, 989 ["five and one-half years of unsupervised good conduct is not a sufficient period of time to demonstrate genuine reform"]; compare Kwasnik v. State Bar, supra, 50 Cal.3d 1061, 1071-1072 [seven- or eight-year period sufficient to show rehabilitation after applicant wrongfully evaded payment of civil judgment]; Hall v. Committee of Bar Examiners (1979) 25 Cal.3d 730, 742 [extended period of exemplary conduct found where no complaints lodged against applicant's employment business for six years after his business license was temporarily suspended by administrative agency].)

B. Insufficient Showing of Rehabilitation

Farahmand presented character witnesses and his healthcare industry accomplishments to establish he is now fit to practice law. The 13 witnesses who testified on Farahmand's behalf included doctors, business owners, financial institution presidents or vice-presidents, and five attorneys. All witnesses described Farahmand as honest, truthful, ethical, and a man with high integrity. He was also considered very generous with his time and money. Almost all of the witnesses knew the reasons the Committee opposed his admission to practice law, but that did not change their positive views of him. The attorneys and other witnesses maintained that they would not hesitate to refer people to Farahmand for legal representation.

However, character witnesses' testimony "will not suffice by itself to establish rehabilitation. [Citation.]" (Glass, supra, 58 Cal.4th at p. 525.) Moreover, Farahmand's success in the healthcare industry is commendable, but does not establish he is rehabilitated after his misdeeds. " '[T]ruly exemplary' conduct ordinarily includes service to the community. [Citation.]" (Id. at p. 520.) Farahmand bought Cedars Hospital for about $5,000,000 when it was struggling to survive. He made it profitable and sold it for about $15,000,000. However, he did not purchase and manage the hospital out of a sense of civic duty to the community. Instead, he testified he was motivated by the hospital's potential as a "goldmine" and thought "it could have been doing very, very well" financially.

Farahmand's creation of Enterhealth online programs and addiction treatment centers in 2007 is also admirable, but his rehabilitation showing is undermined by committing a DUI one year after he started Enterhealth. Additionally, he benefitted financially by selling the company for about $2.3 million after only three years of involvement. Often, rehabilitation through community service is shown by unpaid volunteer work. (See In the Matter of Salyer (Review Dept. 2005) 4 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 816, 824 [extensive work with Little League for six years and weekly youth discussions for three years considered rehabilitating]; In the Matter of Brown (Review Dept. 1993) 2 Cal. State Bar Ct. Rptr. 309, 317 [rehabilitation shown by full day of pro bono work every week for four years]; In re Andreani (1939) 14 Cal.2d 736, 748 [rehabilitation shown by active participation in civic and public projects for considerable portion of six years].)

In light of Farahmand's misconduct, we find that the evidence of his rehabilitation and truly exemplary conduct over an extended period of time is insufficient.

V. CONCLUSION

Farahmand has failed to establish that he possesses good moral character. We cannot hold him out to our Supreme Court with confidence as one who should be admitted to practice law. We reverse the hearing judge's decision.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

ANDREW G. WATTERS, Plaintiff, v. MAHSA PARVIZ, Defendant.	CASE NO. 2:23-cv-00755-RSL ORDER OF DISMISSAL

This matter comes before the Court on the Court's "Amended Second Order to Show Cause" (Dkt. # 16), plaintiff's response thereto (Dkt. # 18), defendant's "Request for Protective Order" (Dkt. # 17), and defendant's "Verified Emergency Motion for Temporary Restraining Order" (Dkt. # 20).

Background

In March 2022, plaintiff created a website about his ex-girlfriend, defendant Mahsa Parviz. Plaintiff uses the page to explain how he was duped by Ms. Parviz, asserting that she lied to him about her resume and criminal history and that, despite their break up, she continues to contact him. His avowed purposes in creating the website were to shame and/or expose defendant. In May 2023, Ms. Parviz contacted plaintiff, requesting that he remove the webpage or face a domestic violence complaint filed in the city where he practices law. Plaintiff immediately filed this lawsuit, essentially copying the contents of the website into a complaint seeking an award of damages (special, general, and punitive), an award of attorney's fees, and a declaration that Ms. Parviz is a vexatious litigant. The Court issued an order to show cause why the case should not be dismissed for lack of subject matter jurisdiction: plaintiff's allegation regarding the amount in controversy was wholly conclusory and unsupported by any factual allegations. Plaintiff then filed an amended complaint adding a federal claim under the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act ("CFAA"), 18 U.S.C. § 1030(g), and seeking an injunction against "threated violations of the computer fraud law." Dkt. # 6 at 21.

Sufficiency of Allegations of the First Amended Complaint

After reviewing the Verified First Amended Complaint, the Court found that "the newly-added Computer Fraud and Abuse Act claim had not been adequately pled and that 'the values of judicial economy, convenience, fairness, and comity' lead to the conclusion that the Court 'should decline the exercise of jurisdiction [over related state claims] by dismissing the case without prejudice.'" Dkt # 16 at 2 (quoting Carnegie-Mellon Univ. v. Cohill, 484 U.S. 343, 350 (1988) (citation omitted)). Plaintiff was given a second opportunity to show cause why his claims should not be dismissed.

The CFAA forbids intentionally accessing a computer without authorization or in excess of the authorized access, 18 U.S.C. § 1030(a), and "is best understood as an anti-intrusion statute and not as a 'misappropriation statute,'' hiQ Labs, Inc. v. LinkedIn Corp., 31 F.4th 1180, 1196 (9th Cir. 2022) (quoting U.S. v. Nosal, 676 F.3d 854, 857-58 (9th Cir. 2012)). In the Ninth Circuit, "a violation of the terms of use of a website – without more – cannot establish liability under the CFAA." Facebook, Inc. v. Power Ventures, Inc., 844 F.3d 1058, 1067 (9th Cir. 2016). Instead, the court looks to see whether the conduct at issue is analogous to breaking and entering. hiQ Labs, 31 F.4th at 1197. "The 'without authorization' clause protects computers themselves by targeting so-called outside hackers – those who access a computer without any permission at all. The 'exceeds authorized access' clause provides complementary protection for certain information within computers by targeting so-called inside hackers – those who access a computer with permission, but then exceed the parameters of authorized access by entering an area of the computer to which that authorization does not extend." Id. at 1198 (quoting Van Buren v. U.S., __ U.S. __, 141 S. Ct. 1648, 1658 (2021)) (internal quotation marks, citations, and alterations omitted).

Plaintiff alleges in the First Amended Complaint that when he ran a Google search regarding Ms. Parviz, two Harvard-related URLs (https://scholar.harvard.edu/mparviz and https://collaborate.med.harvard.edu/display/~MP284/Parviz%2C+Mahsa) popped up.[1] These web-based connections seemed to confirm Ms. Parviz' representations that she holds an M.D. or a Ph.D. from Harvard, that she lectured or taught there, and/or that she has a number of scientific publications to her credit. In February 2022, plaintiff wrote to the Harvard IT department suggesting that Ms. Parviz hacked into Harvard's system or misused her Harvard Extension School credentials to create and maintain a fake Harvard persona. He requested that Harvard "consider deleting Ms. Parviz's web pages and disabling her email address for violations of the Harvard acceptable use policy . . . ." Dkt. # 6 at 7. Plaintiff alleges that Harvard deleted Ms. Parviz's webpage in March 2022.

In response to the second order to show cause, plaintiff argues that Ms. Parviz' use of a Harvard Medical School webpage when she was not enrolled at Harvard constitutes accessing a computer without authorization. He cites without attribution what appear to be the terms governing the use of the university's web publishing platforms. See https://hwp.harvard.edu/terms-use. The terms specify that a webpage can be created only by "benefits-eligible faculty and staff employed by Harvard" or by "currently enrolled, degree-seeking students," and that "[f]aculty and students sites will be removed if the site owner leaves Harvard." Id. Plaintiff alleges no facts regarding Ms. Parviz's status when she created the websites, nor was there an affirmative obligation on her part to delete the webpages when her association with Harvard ended. Even if plaintiff had adequately alleged a violation of Harvard's terms of use, the Ninth Circuit has rejected a contract-based interpretation of the phrases "without authorization" or "exceeds authorized access." In the absence of evidence that defendant broke through or evaded restrictions on access, a violation of a webpage's terms and conditions of use is not enough to give rise to a plausible inference of liability under the CFAA.

Plaintiff's allegations of a CFAA violation were previously found insufficient (Dkt. # 16), and his response to the Order to Show Cause does not remedy the failures. The CFAA claim is therefore DISMISSED. Because plaintiff has failed to allege facts which could support the only federal cause of action asserted in the amended complaint or to show circumstances compelling the Court to deviate from the common practice of declining supplemental jurisdiction when no federal claims remain, the Court declines to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over plaintiff's state law claims.

Protective Order (Dkt. # 17 at 1-2)

Ms. Parviz seeks a protective order because plaintiff has contacted her with regards to this lawsuit despite the existence of a domestic violence restraining order issued in a California state proceeding. The terms of the restraining order have not been disclosed, and Ms. Parviz is, apparently "as a matter of legal strategy," proceeding pro se in this litigation. The rules of this Court require plaintiff to provide notice of filings to defendant and to confer regarding case management issues. Whether these interactions violate the restraining order will have to be determined by the issuing court.

Motion to Seal (Dkt. # 17 at 2)

Defendant asserts that she intends to file counterclaims in the above-captioned matter, some of which will depend on materials protected by the attorney-client privilege, refer to defendant's minor daughter, and/or relate to criminal matters that are still under investigation. She again requests that the case file be sealed to limit disclosure of these materials. Plaintiff's complaint has now been dismissed and there are no counterclaims pending. A seal is therefore unnecessary.

Motion to Proceed Under a Pseudonym (Dkt. # 17 at 2)

Ms. Parviz asserts that some of the information contained in the First Amended Complaint is protected health care information and/or has been disclosed in violation of the attorney-client privilege. She requests that, if the entire case file is not sealed, she be permitted to proceed under the pseudonym "Jane Doe" to avoid harassment, injury, ridicule, or embarrassment to herself and her family. The information at issue has been posted on plaintiff's webpage since June 2022 and has been publicly accessible on the Court's docket for almost three months. Plaintiff's claims have now been dismissed, and the case file will be closed once defendant's pending motion for sanctions is resolved. Altering the way defendant's name appears in the docket to allow her to proceed under a pseudonym at this late date would serve no purpose.

Motion for Temporary Restraining Order (Dkt. # 20)

Defendant seeks a temporary restraining order preventing plaintiff or his agents from destroying, altering, or disclosing information that plaintiff allegedly obtained when he logged into defendant's Gmail account without authorization. No evidence is offered in support of the allegations of unauthorized access to the Gmail account, unauthorized access to webpages and servers linked to the Gmail account, the alteration or downloading of confidential material, or any threat to alter, destroy, or disclose confidential material. Having failed to show a likelihood of success on the merits of her claims of unlawful access, spoliation, and/or unlawful disclosure, temporary injunctive relief is unavailable.

For all of the foregoing reasons, plaintiff's claims in the above-captioned matter are hereby DISMISSED, and defendant's motion for a protective order (Dkt. # 17) and motion for a temporary restraining order (Dkt. # 20) are DENIED. The Clerk of Court is directed to enter judgment against plaintiff and in favor of defendant. The Court will consider defendant's renewed motion for sanctions (Dkt. # 21) on or after the note date of September 1, 2023, and will enter an amended judgment if necessary.

Dated this 16th day of August, 2023.

12/07/2021	65	MINUTES OF Pretrial Conference and Motion Hearing held before Judge Stanley Blumenfeld, Jr. as to Defendant Mahsa Parviz. The Court discussed and resolved a number of issues, including voir dire and preadmitting exhibits, as set forth in the record. The Court GRANTS in part and denies in part the Government's Motion in Limine (MIL) No. 1 38 without prejudice. The Government may introduce evidence of the facts surrounding the 2019 Kidnapping, but not the conviction itself. The Government may not introduce evidence of the 2018 Child Endangerment, 2019 Forgery, or Prior Convictions, except that Defendant's convictions for forgery and tampering with a government record are admissible for impeachment if Defendant testifies. The Court also GRANTS the Government's MIL Nos. 2 and 3 39 , 40 as unopposed. Defendant is precluded from cross-examining government witness K.M. about events that occurred after Defendant's 2019 arrest or from seeking familial and personal information (such as whether K.M. has adopted C.P.). Further, Defendant may not make arguments: (1) seeking jury nullification (including arguments challenging court orders relating to the termination of Defendant's parental rights); (2) relitigating the termination of Defendant's parental rights; and (3) relating to duress, necessity, or other affirmative defenses. Finally, at the hearing, the parties indicated that there were outstanding issues regarding the proper scope of (1) impeachment for government witness, Bret Barker, and (2) direct examination of Defendant's potential character witness. The Government requested that the Court provide an opportunity to address those issues outside the presence of the jury. Accordingly, the parties are permitted to file a joint motion in limine addressing the disputes by no later than 8:00 AM on 12/13/2021. Court Reporter: N/A. (gk) (Entered: 12/10/2021)

04/02/2024	194	ORDER DENYING MOTION TO TERMINATE SUPERVISED RELEASE (DKT. NO. 191), DENYING MOTION FOR EXTENSION OF TIME TO FILE A REPLY (DKT. NO. 193), AND DIRECTING SERVICE by Judge Stanley Blumenfeld, Jr. as to Defendant Mahsa Parviz. On March 25, Parviz filed a document titled "ex parte motion for extension of time," stating that the government's opposition (which was sent to her by mail) arrived damaged and missing pages 193 . She requested that the Court order the opposition be served on her, because she lacks access to PACER in her current detention facility. Id. She also requested an extension of time to file a reply. Because the Court did not request a reply and has already ruled on the motion, and because further briefing would not alter the fact that Parviz is legally ineligible for relief on her motion for a reduction in sentence, the Court denies the request for an extension of time to file a reply. The Court ORDERS the government to serve a copy of its opposition (Dkt. No. 187), the Court's order denying the motion (Dkt. No. 188), and this order on Parviz and to file a proof of service indicating it has done so by no later than 4/5/2024. Separately, on March 8, Parviz submitted a filing requesting that the Court terminate supervised release 191 . Parviz is currently incarcerated and not on supervised release. Parviz presents no new information, authority, or argument in her request to terminate supervised release. The Court declines to give Parviz a fourth bite at the apple, particularly when it does not appear ripe. The Court thus DENIES the motion at Dkt. No. 191 . (gk) (Entered: 04/03/2024)

05/20/2024	206	ORDER DENYING MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION by Judge Stanley Blumenfeld, Jr. as to Defendant Mahsa Parviz. Parviz's appeal of her conviction is still pending, and she has also filed a separate appeal of the Court's denial of her motion for a sentence reduction. Nevertheless, Parviz now moves for reconsideration of that order

		204 . The Court DENIES the motion. Separately--in what appears to be unlabeled filings tangentially related to Parviz's purported first grounds for relief--Parviz has repeatedly filed information on the public docket containing personally identifiable information (PII) of other people, including dates of birth and addresses, in violation of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and the Local Rules. The Court warns Parviz that if she submits another document for filing containing any person's PII, the Court may order her to submit all future filings to the United States Attorney's Office for screening before they are filed. The government is ordered to serve a copy of this order on Defendant and to file a proof of service no later than 5/24/2024. See document for further details. (gk) (Entered: 05/21/2024)

FOR THE CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

June 2021 Grand Jury

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Plaintiff, v. MAHSA PARVIZ, Defendant.	CR 2:21-cr-00293-DMG I N D I C T M E N T [18 U.S.C. § 1542: False Statement in a Passport Application; 18 U.S.C. § 1028A(a)(1): Aggravated Identity Theft; 18 U.S.C. § 981(a)(1)(C) and 28 U.S.C. § 2461(c): Criminal Forfeiture]

The Grand Jury charges:

COUNT ONE

[18 U.S.C. § 1542]

On or about June 11, 2019, in Los Angeles County, within the Central District of California, defendant MAHSA PARVIZ willfully and knowingly made a false statement in an application for a United States passport, with intent to induce and secure for the use of another person the issuance of a passport under the authority of the United States, contrary to the laws regulating the issuance of such passports and the rules prescribed pursuant to such laws, in that, in such application, defendant PARVIZ stated that she was the legal parent for C.P., and submitted a letter by C.P.'s purported physician, B.B., claiming C.P. required emergency overseas travel for medically necessary operations and could not personally appear for the application process without posing an unsurmountable risk to C.P.'s health, whereas, in fact, as defendant PARVIZ then knew, her parental rights over C.P. had been terminated, B.B. was not C.P.'s physician, C.P. did not require emergency overseas travel for medically necessary operations, and C.P. could not personally appear for the application process because C.P. was in the custody of the State of Texas and not because there would be a risk to C.P.'s health.

COUNT TWO

[18 U.S.C. § 1028A(a)(1)]

On or about June 11, 2019, in Los Angeles County, within the Central District of California, defendant MAHSA PARVIZ knowingly used, without lawful authority, a means of identification that defendant PARVIZ knew belonged to another person, namely, the name of victim B.B., during and in relation to the offense of False Statement in a Passport Application, a felony violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1542, as charged in Count One of this Indictment.

FORFEITURE ALLEGATION

[18 U.S.C. § 981(a)(1)(C) and 28 U.S.C. § 2461(c)]

1. Pursuant to Rule 32.2 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, notice is hereby given that the United States of America will seek forfeiture as part of any sentence, pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Section 981(a)(1)(C) and Title 28, United States Code, Section 2461(c), in the event of the defendant's conviction of the offense set forth in Count One of this Indictment.

2. The defendant, if so convicted, shall forfeit to the United States of America the following:

(a) All right, title, and interest in any and all property, real or personal, constituting, or derived from, any proceeds traceable to the offense; and

(b) To the extent such property is not available for forfeiture, a sum of money equal to the total value of the property described in subparagraph (a).

3. Pursuant to Title 21, United States Code, Section 853(p), as incorporated by Title 28, United States Code, Section 2461(c), the defendant, if so convicted, shall forfeit substitute property, up to the value of the property described in the preceding paragraph if, as the result of any act or omission of the defendant, the property described in the preceding paragraph or any portion thereof (a) cannot be located upon the exercise of due diligence; (b) has been transferred, sold to, or deposited with a third party; (c) has been placed beyond the jurisdiction of the court; (d) has been substantially diminished in value; or (e) has been commingled with other property that cannot be divided without difficulty.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
Plaintiff,

v.

MAHSA PARVIZ,
Defendant.

Cause No. 2:21-Cr-00293-SB

MOTION TO TRANSFER
PURSUANT TO 18 U.S.C. § 3605

COMES NOW, Defendant MAHSA PARVIZ, and, pursuant to 18 U.S.C § 3605, makes this MOTION TO TRANSFER jurisdiction to the Northern District of California for the reasons detailed herein.

On February 27, 2026, Parviz became a "person on supervised release" under the above-numbered cause. Parviz filed a similar Motion (DKT # 300), which This Court denied as premature due to the BOP's recalculation of her release date. Parviz is forced to stay at a hotel within the Central District as she resides at 57 Amador Avenue, Atherton, CA 94027.

All facts within the attached prior Motion to Transfer are true, with the exception of the date Parviz became a "person on supervised release."

Accordingly, Parviz requests an Order from this Court to transfer this matter to the Northern District of California USDC and permit her to reside at her home therein.

DATED: February 27th, 2026

Respectfully submitted,

COMES NOW, Defendant MAHSA PARVIZ, and, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. Section 3605, makes this MOTION TO TRANSFER jurisdiction to the Northern District of California for the reasons detailed herein.

On or about January 3, 2026, Parviz became a "person on supervised release" under the above-numbered cause.

On October 24, 2025, Parviz, while housed at the Orion RRC in Van Nuys, California, had a telephone conversation with her assigned Probation Officer, Mr. Jovany Rodriguez, of the Woodland Hills USPO, at his telephone number: (954) 675-6555.

During the aforementioned conversation, Parviz notified Officer Rodriguez that her residential address is 57 Amador Avenue, Atherton, CA 94027, within the Northern District of California, and Officer Rodriguez agreed to transfer her supervision to the Northern District of January 3, 2026.

Accordingly, Parviz requests an Order from this Court transferring this matter to the Northern District of California USDC.
